WE NOMINATE

The 70 members of the Westminster Choir College faculty and staff who over the past five years — under the leadership of a highly perceptive and aggressive president, almost-41 Lee Hastings Bristol Jr. — have succeeded in accomplishing miracles. In recent weeks this small interdenominational college, concerned with preparing young men and women for positions of musical leadership in churches and schools, has made major educational news as both the United States Office of Education, acting on the recommendation of the New Jersey Commission for the Higher Education Facilities Act, and private industry have taken cognizance of Westminster's aspirations for excellence.

From the Federal Government, under the provisions of Title One of the Higher Education Facilities Act, will soon come a grant of $329,333 for the construction of a library-classroom complex and a dormitory, the latter housing 150 students of the expanding enrollment. Of comparable significance, although the dollars involved constitute a token award, Westminster is one of the 12 institutions declared eligible for a coveted challenge grant of $5,000 from C.I.T. Financial Corporation, honors reserved for privately supported, 4-year liberal arts colleges and universities gaining accreditation, or re-accreditation, during the previous year from any one of the six recognized regional U.S. accrediting associations.

The C.I.T. grant, announced by Princetonian William L. Wilson Jr., C.I.T. vice-president and veteran member of the Princeton Township Committee, accentuated that a year ago Westminster, in its 40th anniversary year, had been fully accredited as a degree-granting institution. In its searching evaluation of Westminster, the seven-member team representing the Middle States Commission on Institutions of Higher Education warmly commended the college for the number of significant changes made in five years, stating "it is apparent that the administration and faculty have recently been working together as never before to develop a curriculum in which each component is clearly defined and in which one area reinforces the other..."

Indicative of the role of a superbly trained faculty, three-quarters of whom hold earned advanced degrees, was the following excerpt from the evaluation team's report. While recalling "weaknesses so sharply evident" in 1962, it was the unanimous opinion that Westminster "shows signs of considerable stability under effective leadership; that the faculty has been decidedly strengthened and is participating fully and harmoniously in the growth of the college; that the present curriculum... is well-conceived, properly balanced, and adequately staffed."

Frequently overshadowed by its brilliant Symphonic Choir, which has given well over 200 performances with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra and others, Westminster is the outgrowth of a choir started by the late Dr. John Finley Williamson in Dayton, Ohio, in 1920. It was established as the Dayton Westminster Choir School in 1926, was affiliated with Ithaca College, Ithaca, N. Y. for several years and in 1932 moved to Princeton where its undergraduates now serve each Sunday in some 90 churches within a 100-mile radius of the campus.

For understanding that "music, especially the kind of music to which they are giving themselves, is a ministry," for helping their undergraduates "to grow not only as musicians but as human beings as well," for endowing Westminster with elements of the conservatory and the liberal arts college — and with features peculiarly its own; these are our nominees as

TODAY IS HISTORY

Bainbridge House To Open. It's been a long time since a sedan chair has been carried sedately down Nassau Street, stopping before the door of the Lim yellow house where Commodore William Bainbridge was born, to allow Robert Stockton to descend and enter.

Memories of the Bainbridges and the Stocktons will crowd the little house this Saturday as it formally opens its door as the headquarters of the Historical Society of Princeton Bainbridge House, which in 1776 served as headquarters for the British, is now the property of Princeton University, and is made available to the Society on a dollar a year basis.

It will be a gala day of ruffles and flourishes and stiff gold braid. Admiral Robert Speck, Commandant of the Fourth Naval District, Philadelphia, will unveil a portrait of Commodore Bainbridge and present it to the Society's president, Bruce H. French, as a gift from the United States Navy.

Admiral Speck will be joined by Captain Robert E. Warner, Commanding Officer of the Naval ROTC Unit at Princeton University, by the executive officer of the detachment, Commander Alexander K. Rentse, and Lieutenant Thomas G. Pollak.

Members of the Historical Society and their guests will attend a reception and Open House between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. on Saturday, and the public will be invited to visit the house on Monday between 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

This Friday, before the big day, there will be a benefit showing of the new British comedy-thriller, "The Jokers," at the Princeton Playhouse at 8:30 p.m. and proceeds will be used to continue the restoration of the Bainbridge House and to buy furnishings for it.

It Was The Library. For the public at large, of course, Bainbridge is the building that used to be the public library and many Princeton residents will open the door on Monday out of curiosity. "What did they do with the alcove in the children's department and what was behind all those bookshelves, anyway?"

Visitors who used to check out books will find that the circulation room has been transformed. It is now an 18th-century parlor, with white walls, white muslin curtains with gold ball fringe, splendid furniture (lent by Mrs. Walter Edge), an Oriental rug and a handsome Adamesque mantel in full view for the first time.

Behind this room is less splendor—deliberately so. Here the archaeologists of Bainbridge House found three layers of old, fragile wallpaper; a soft green, a tan and a delicate little pattern of green flower sprays. Until an expert comes to perform a careful miracle of peeling and removing, the walls will look as though they needed a coat of paint.

On the right of the front

COMMODORE BAINBRIDGE, SIR! The man of the hour in Princeton on Saturday will be this naval hero of the War of 1812, who was born in Bainbridge House, headquarters of the Historical Society of Princeton. This copy of a portrait of the Commodore will be presented to the Society on Saturday by the United States Navy.

door, where the reference librarian used to sit, the Historical Society will furnish an 18th-century doctor's office. Dr. Ah-sa-lom Bainbridge, father of the Commodore, practiced medicine in this house and so did Dr. Ebenezer Stockton in later years. Both may well have used this very room, and its corner fireplace.

Records from the Past. In the front hall—opposite the card catalogue—will be a showcase of treasurers found in the house by Historical Society members, particularly by Charles E. Peterson, adjunct professor of Architecture at Princeton.

Here is the tanner's account book found behind the fireplace in the former circulation room. (Job Stockton, who bought the house in 1765 from the Sheriff of Somerset County, was a tanner.)

Here is a rent receipt from owner Robert Stockton to tenant Absalom Bainbridge. Dr. Bainbridge was renting the house from Stockton at the time William Bainbridge was born, in 1774. (Dr. Bainbridge was a Tory, and it has been said around town that he left Princeton owing a good bit of money.)

Here, too, is a page of birth and death records from the Bainbridge family Bible, and the account book belonging to Dr. Stockton.

One of the most fascinating documents is a long inventory of the house made in 1771 after Job Stockton's death. The list is a complete tally: "dinner and 7 wine glasses," "wash basin," "Negro man, Peter" (worth 80 British pounds); a sleigh and a saddle, pillowcases and two and one-half dozen Queensware plates, the hides in the tannery. And that sedan chair.

ship chairman, welcomes everybody. There are already 556 memberships.

What does a member receive? He can attend four lectures a year, seminars on subjects like genealogy or the history of Princeton, given perhaps by Mr. French or by Mrs. Robert Greiff and Mrs. Felton Gihons, research historians for the Society. He can arrange with the Society for special-interest lectures on, say, the Delaware and Raritan Canal, or the history of Princeton Cemetery, or Princeton as a station on the underground railroad. He can use the Society's files, and the Society's headquarters as a meeting place.

There are also junior memberships, and in the fall school projects will be arranged with history and social studies teachers. Walter Fullam is chairman of the juniors—they did some of the scraping and painting.

To keep Bainbridge House open beyond its regular hours each day, the Society would like volunteer hostesses. (Mrs. William Field is head of volunteers.)

There is need for volunteer cataloguers and if volunteers don't know how to catalogue, they will be taught. (Mrs. Herbert McAneny is executive director.)

For the benefit this Friday evening and the formal opening this Saturday, co-chairmen are Mrs. Gordon Knox and H. Gilbert Nicol.

In Mrs. Knox' words, "An historical society can be as useful to a community as its residents' needs and interests demand," and with the opening of Bainbridge House, the scope of interest in Princeton's past will widen with the passing years.

BOOK REVIEW ARRANGED

For Two Biographies. The Princeton Public Library will hold a program Wednesday morning at 10 in its second floor meeting room to discuss the biographies of two great actresses. Cornelia Otis Skinner's biography of Sarah Bernhardt, "Madame Sarah," and a book by Eva Le Gallienne, titled "The Mystic in the Theatre: Eleonora Duse," will be analyzed.

Reviewing "Madame Sarah" will be Marguerite McAneny. She is the former curator of the theater collection in the Princeton University Library and current president of the Princeton Historical Society.

A. Munro Wade will speak on the biography of Duse. The director of drama at Hun, Stuart and Princeton Day Schools. Mr. Wade appeared as an actor in "The Rainmaker" and "The Crucible" at Rider College.

PLANS SPEED AHEAD

For "Youth Arts" Fete. Princeton teenagers are forming into a series of fast-moving committees for the one-day "Youth Arts Unlimited" to be held Saturday, April 15, in the parking lot behind the Playhouse.

"There's going to be something happening all day long," according to Chuck Burton, Princeton Seminary student, who is festival co-ordinator.

From a movable stage reminiscent of street corner theatre, the Princeton High School Repertory Theatre will give scenes from "The Taming of the Shrew," and negotiations are on with Princeton Day School students to present a Thornton Wilder one-act play. The Marrowbone Creek Vagrants and a combo from the PHS band will be among the folk and jazz groups from Princeton schools who are being scheduled throughout the day.

The Pseukay dance group will perform; there will be fence paintings for spontaneous artists, handicrafts on exhibit and for sale, refreshments, a record hop and even a babysitting service. While one group of teenagers is compiling a book of their poetry, another is designing posters, and another is working on the various exhibits. There is a great response from teenage artists to the request for paintings and sculpture for exhibit.

A dance at Trinity Church this Saturday with music by The Deuces Wild has been substituted for the block dance planned for all ages on the 15th. Funds raised by Youth Arts Unlimited will support the summer scholarship programs of Pseukay and Youth Associates.

DON'T PARK HERE

On Springdale, Battle, Etc. Overnight parking — with "overnight" defined as 2 a.m. to 10 a.m.—is now prohibited on four streets in the Battle Park area.

Township Committee unanimously passed the new regulation Monday night. The streets affected are Battle Road, Springdale, Haslet Avenue and Olden. The original ordinance also included Newlin and Ober but residents of those streets petitioned Committee to omit them from the ban and Committee acquiesced.

The overnight parking ban was requested by residents of the area who complained that graduate students from Princeton University were using the streets as all-day parking lots. Committee set the upper limit of 10 a.m. so that students couldn't park cars before classes and leave them all day.

It was parking and traffic night at Township Hall. Com-

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN: Willing workers Allison Hughes and Caroline Erdman help unload a donation of books for the 36th annual Bryn Mawr Book Sale, which will be held April 12-14 at its usual location — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Proceeds are used for scholarship funds for girls from the Princeton area. Allison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, Caroline's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Erdman.

mittee introduced an ordinance establishing 35 m.p.h. as the speed limit along the entire length of Terhune-Van Dyke Road. The present limit is 50 m.p.h., except for a patch or two at 25 m.p.h. The new regulation has preliminary approval from the state and will be up for public hearing on April 17.

Also, Committee introduced an ordinance prohibiting parking on the west side of Magnolia Lane between Abernathy and Broadripple from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on school days, and on the east side from 8 a.m. and 2:15 to 3:15 p.m. on school days. The state has also approved this one, which answers a plea from the Parent-Teacher Organization of Littlebrook School. Public hearing April 17.

Money Saved, and Gained. Committeeman William Wilson announced with satisfaction that negotiations with Princeton Bank and Trust Company had resulted in a reduced interest rate for the municipality's indebtedness. For the first quarter of the year, the interest was 3.8 percent for the month of January, and 3.125 for February and March. For the rest of the year, it will be 2.86 percent. Mr. Wilson said the saving to the Township was about $10,000.

Committee passed unanimously the increase in alcoholic beverage license fees. Bars will now pay $720 (from $600); package stores $360 (from $300) and clubs $150 (from $100).

Committee also accepted with regret the resignation of Fred Schluter from the Zoning Board. Mr. Schluter is moving to Hunterdon County.

ASK POLICY CHANGE

In Housing Code Enforcement. "We're not condemning you," said Mrs. Rowan Boone on Thursday night to the Township Board of Health, "we'd like to see an improvement in the situation and we'd like to help you and be a pressure group when necessary."

About a dozen residents of the Township appeared before the Board to urge a revision of Board policy on the inspection of living quarters under the housing code. The Board now inspects only on complaint or if the health officer believes there is a "strong reason" to inspect. Those in the audience would like to have a regular inspection of all rentals.

The upshot of the meeting was that there was no upshot of the meeting. Dr. William Kleinberg, chairman, said the whole matter was on the agenda of Township Committee, but he pointed out that Committee has many things on its agenda.

"This matter should not be set aside on some agenda," retorted Mrs. Harold Kuhn. "The Board of Health should advise Committee."

Whose Responsibility? Dr. Kleinberg said he and the Board felt that members of the community had the responsibility for bringing violations of the housing code to the attention of Mrs. Marcella Farley, the Township's health officer, who does the inspecting. He added that a tenant can be — Continued on Next Page

Not So Dainty Footsteps

April tripping
Down the street,
Winter's boots
Still on her feet.

After fooling everybody on the first with record breaking temperatures, and keeping the heat on through the weekend, April dropped the thermometer and the mercury shot down from 80 all the way to the freezing point.

Inevitably, rain followed, but clearer, milder weather is on tap next. In keeping with tradition, April showers are a weekend possibility.

liable, too, and from now on, Mrs. Farley will have summons issued for tenant as well as landlord.

The question of tenant violations has been a sensitive one and it brought spirited accusations and denials on Thursday night. The Board of Health and Mrs. Farley contend that one of the tenants at 52 Birch Avenue, the property that started the exploration of housing code enforcement was in violation of the code, and some members of the audience challenged this.

Another challenge came from Mrs. Paul C. Rose, who said it was the responsibility of the Board and its health officer to enforce the code, not the responsibility of private citizens to report. Mrs. Farley said she inspected 32 houses last year, about half on complaints and half on her own judgment.

Seymour Alpert, vice-president of PAHR, the Princeton Association for Human Rights, suggested a routine inspection of all rentals whenever properties are said; a routine inspection whenever one tenant moves out and another moves in, or periodic inspection of all rentals in the community.

Mr. Turner's Proposal. Orren Jack Turner of the Borough Board of Health, who was present at the Township meeting, has proposed regular inspections between tenants, and the PAHR sent a letter to the Township Board urging its support of Mr. Turner's suggestion.

Dr. Kleinberg protested that the Board did not have enough employees for regular inspections. He said that personally he was inclined to favor regular inspection whenever a tenant moved out, but he pointed out that a previous Township Committee had refused to include this in the housing code. Under questioning, he said he hadn't repeated such a recommendation to the present Committee.

When to Inspect? "I think it would benefit the whole community if the Board of Health could get the money for regular inspections," said Mrs. Benson Carlin. "If any one part of town is deteriorating, it disadvantages the whole community. And if landlords know that regular inspections are going to be made, they wouldn't let their houses deteriorate."

One member of the audience suggested that regular inspections would be more democratic than inspections between tenants. "It would be like a police state, keeping track of when everybody moves," she said.

Questioned directly by Mrs. Carlin "Do you favor regular inspection?" Dr. Kleinberg replied that it was a complex problem and that his mind wasn't fully made up. "But I don't want to make a decision based on the pressure now being exerted," he said.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANNED
Montgomery to Vote. A $3,325,000 high school for Montgomery Township has been approved by the municipality's Board of Education on a basis of preliminary plans considered at Monday night's meeting. They will be presented to the State Department of Education on April 27, Board President Norman Hoagland said. A public hearing has been scheduled for June 22, with the referendum on June 27.

The site will be the 74-acre tract on Burnt Hill Road, approved as the location in a referendum in February. A school that will enroll 1,100 is contemplated, with plans including an auditorium, gymnasium, cafeteria, library, athletic fields and parking areas. The architects are the firm of Micklewright and Mountford.

Montgomery Township has been on notice for some time that its quarter-century old arrangement of sending students to Princeton High School must gradually come to an end. The first stage of the phasing out program will begin this fall.

Next September, ninth grade students in Montgomery will remain there for the academic year, rather than enroll at PHS. They will spend tenth grade at Princeton High and then return to Montgomery for the final two years of their secondary school education in the new high school.

On April 30, cornerstone laying and dedication ceremonies will be held for the new Orchard Road School. It will serve as a junior high school, with the ninth grade also enrolled there.

PATTERSON WILL RUN
For Fourth Term. Henry S. Patterson announced this week that he will run for a fourth term as mayor of the Borough. "I believe I have responsibilities to the Borough," he said, "and there are certain problems I want to help in solving." He cited completion of the Master Plan and the Plan's suggestions for relieving parking and traffic.

"I don't intend to make a career of being mayor of Princeton!" he added. The mayor has been discussed as a possible Republican candidate for the State Assembly and as a gubernatorial candidate also.

"I'm delighted that Alan Carrick will also run again," Mayor Patterson said. Councilman Carrick had said that he would run for re-election if

YOUR NAME GOLDONI? No, that the playwright. The pair in this picture are Panatalone (left, played by George Hearn) and Beatrice (Tamara Daniel). She has disguised herself as a man for reasons you will learn early in the evening in "The Servant of Two Masters," final comedy in McCarter's spring season.

News Of The THEATRES

FINAL PLAY OPENS

In McCarter Series. Pow! Bam! Bang! Zowie! Wow! The production of "Servant of Two Masters" that opened in McCarter Friday night makes a Marx Brothers' movie look like Quaker meeting.

You have barely settled in your seat and disposed of all those flyers McCarter insists on stuffing into the program, when down the aisle they come, charging at you strong.

From then on, you don't have a minute you can call your own—pardon, there is an intermission. It's jet-power, jet-noise, jet-speed right to the end, when the curtain, exhausted like everybody else, finally collapses on the stage.

"The Servant of Two Masters" is a farce from the early 18th-century master, Carlo Goldoni. Whether a Princeton undergraduate will stagger out of this production and say "Is this 'commedia dell'arte?'" is a problem we leave to the faculty and to academic purists in the audience.

For the rest of us, it's just too much. Frederic O'Brady, usually a man of delicate sophistication and wit, has for some reason decided to pile into this play every acting and theatrical trick in the production handbook.

Improvisation, as Director O'Brady has pointed out in various interviews, is an important aspect of "Servant of Two Masters" and actors have been given complete freedom to improvise.

The actors love this, of course. It gives them a chance to turn quickly for a dramatic exit—and bump into the door jamb; to reach for a sword in highest dudgeon—and have to fumble for the hilt; to make a wild gesture of defiance—and stumble, bottom down, legs up, into a trunk-full of clothes.

This is all great fun, except that it happens all the time, every single minute, and with the volume turned up all the way.

John Genke, once the anguished Vladimir in "Waiting for Godot", is now Truffaldino, a sort of rural Harlequin, dressed in a suit of pastel Harlequin diamonds, and made up with painted Twiggy eyelashes.

Mr. Genke delivers his lines as though everyone in the audience needed a hearing-aid and by the time he's through for the evening, everyone does.

Truffaldino is the servant who comes to Venice and hires himself out to two different masters. For the rest of the evening, he has to keep them apart and make sure they don't know he is serving somebody else at the same time.

And who are these two masters? Ah! One is stalwart young Florindo (Anthony Sitar), newly arrived in Venice from Turin. The other lovely young Beatrice (Tamara Daniel) disguised as a man in order to search for her sweetheart, the stalwart young Florindo from Turin. Isn't it a small world?

There are others who have fun with, and in, the plot. George Hearn, freed from Caliban and Hamlet, is allowed to roar freely and happily about the stage (watch that scene where he swims ...) as a Venetian nobleman; Susan Babel as his daughter, assumes a delicious lisp which is just right for the pouting Babel mouth and the great big eyes. Eve Johnson squeals when Venetian gentlemen pinch her hoop skirts on the sly, and sends a high and penetrating voice right up through the proscenium.

Then, there are M. O'Brady's own excursion into improvisation. "Servant" is a play-within-a-play, after the style of "The Taming of the Shrew," and M. O.B. has tucked even more plays into the script. You'll meet "Hamlet," "The Merchant of Venice," "A Man for All Seasons," "The Wrong Box" and funniest of all — "Waiting for Godot."

Contemporary references pop into the lines when you least expect them, and sometimes you're not quite sure you heard them right: "... when you're having more than — Continued on Next Page

IT'S NEW To Us

NOW AND THEN?

All the Time! More than 70 craftsmen in New Jersey and its fringe areas provide the merchandise at a new shop called "The Now 'n Then Shop," in the delightful little barn behind the Cranbury Inn, on Main Street in Cranbury. Loving hands at home? Not at all. Here is a weaver who lives in Deans, and is ready to weave a fabric to your choice from a swatch of more than 100 woolen colors. Have her make something for a suit, a skirt, or even upholstery fabric for a chair.

A potter throws one of a kind "pots" — everything from a handsome contemporary candleholder to a charming little vase. The one-of-a-kind appears again in the creative stitchery of a graduate student's wife: sunbursts of colored yarn stitched into the receding background of natural burlap make a handsome wall hanging for a modern home. This artist has also made a splendid 70-inch woolen shawl with 12-inch fringe, and she will make Rya rugs to your order, deeply tufted with four-inch tufts. (One-of-a-kind? Well, we modify that a little to include her set of four embroidered burlap placemats.)

A Radcliffe student on sabbatical, works glass and lead into bright little stained glass window hangings. Two boys at Princeton High School make cuff-links, pins and rings from CRAFTS AND ANTIQUES: Mrs. R. Birchall Kimble (left) and Mrs. Mart Bushnell, partners in the "Now 'n Then" shop, display some of their crafts and antiques. The miniature grandfather's clock was made entirely by hand (even the pendulum!) and the face was painted by hand. The craftsman lives in Princeton. The white rooster is a candle, made in an old German chocolate mold.

agate, garnet, or lapis lazuli.

Another graduate student's wife amuses herself with "Figments" in felt. Here's a waggish elephant to cover a child's breakfast egg, a PHS mouse wearing a turtleneck knit sweater in Princeton High blue, and a dandy of a mouse with a flowered vest no bigger than a piece of cheese.

You are probably familiar with the fine work done by Dr.

Ross Pittman, the retired psychiatrist, who brings an unusual delicacy of line and concept to lineoleum block prints.

"Now 'n Then" has a print of the Cranbury Presbyterian Church, the Friends Meeting House at Princeton, the bridge at Stony Brook. Dr. Pittman is represented in the Library of Congress and has had his cuts — they are almost like etching — reproduced in national publications.

Practical housewives will want a jewelry post, with hooks for necklaces, bracelets, earrings. (Use one in the kitchen, too, for knives and measuring cups.

Candles for any home, traditional or modern, might be pure beeswax, in natural honey color or various other shades of soft gold and candlelight. Other candles have been decorated with flowers of colored wax, and the most unusual of these have wax butterflies superimposed on the smooth candle surface. So much care and thought has gone into the decoration of each candle, it seems a pity to light the match.

Besides handcrafts, "Now 'n Then" has antiques; in fact, everything in the shop is either antique or hand-made. A set of our pine arrow-back chairs is most impressive, and so is the Boston rocker that matches.

Here's a wrought brass French clock (Japy Freres) with porcelain face, and imposing Hawkes crystal goblets, tall and stately each one signed by its maker.

Some craftsmen combine the hand-made and the "antique." A retired woodworker makes a useful little pine lap desk, pine candlesticks, hurricane bases and breadboards.

Drive over to Cranbury on a fine spring day and browse the shop. (A very convenient place to pick up Christmas presents and save yourself footwork next fall.)

A FLOWERED BOUQUET
With Jacket. A cluster of things to wear — slacks, skirt, slimmer and jacket — makes a charming little flower bouquet at Landau's this spring.

Collegietown of Boston sews in the label. Landau offers three different floral patterns based on yellow, pale green or blue; wear the jacket over the slacks, with the skirt, as companion to the skimmer. The suit is $19, the skimmer, $11.

If you want a solid-color slack suit, there are combinations here, too. We like the light blue "tweed" suit, or its look-alike in tawny wheat, just like raw silk. $25. Skimmer is $15.

Landau bids you "bon voyage" with an arnel travel dress designed with short or cap sleeves. Brown scrolls on white are different for summer (this one has a soft collar) and greens with blues will keep you cool even if the hotel isn't air-conditioned. These arnel travelers are sizes 10-16. They won't crush, of course, and they can be packed into corners you didn't think your suitcase had.

Shimmering, skimmering shells go over everything.

GEORGY GIRL, featuring Lynn Redgrave and Alan

week at the Garden Theatre.

News Of The Theatres

The cast consists of two women: a girl about 19 or 20 and her mother, and three men: the mother's friend and two friends of the girl, both in their 20's, one white and one Negro. The play was written by an 18-year old girl, Shelagh Delaney.

Directing the play will be Harry Rubel. The production will go into rehearsal immediately after casting, and will be presented during the last week-end in May and the first week-end in June.

"J. B.", IN CHAPEL

Deacons to Give Play. The Chapel Deacons of Princeton University will present Archibald Macleish's play, "J. B." in the University chapel on Friday, April 28, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 1, 2 and 3.

Anthony Stimac, who directed "The Tempest" for Mc-Carter's spring repertory season and who is currently acting in McCarter's "Servant of Two Masters," is directing the production for the Deacons.

The play, to be given in the chancel of the Chapel, will be open to the public without charge. A company of undergraduates and residents of the community will perform.

"J. B.," which won the Pulitzer Prize in 1959, is described by its author as "a modern play constructed inside the ancient majesty of the Book of Job. . . Job's research, like ours is no more prepared than Job was for the sudden and inexplicable loss of everything. . .
He needs to know the reason for his wretchedness. And it is in those repeated cries of his that we hear most clearly our own voices."

The Chapel Deacons have been producing since 1959, when they gave "Everyman."
In subsequent years, the Deacons have given Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell," a dramatic version of "The Brothers Karamazov," "Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners," and "A Man for All Seasons."

Blow-Up (now playing) This is an interesting, off-beat treatise on the life and work of a successful fashion photographer, who is not adverse to using his talent in other areas as well.

The photographer, David Hemmings, is taking random snapshots in a London park one day when he spies a couple strolling—an attractive woman (Vanessa Redgrave)

and an older man. He photographs them from a variety of angles and is surprised on leaving the park to find the lady chasing after him, demanding that he turn over the film. He fobs her off with a roll of film and finds that there is a corpse in the background on one picture which he has enlarged or "blown up."

Director Michaelangelo Antonioni, directing his first English film, is also a collaborator on the screenplay. He almost lets a story-line make progress. There are two possibilities, one developing with the encounters and misadventures of a photographer and the other a murder mystery, but neither is developed. Antonioni, in fact, is interested in other things—the social and moral irresponsibility of so many people today and the difference between appearance and the reality behind it.

While the plot is cryptic, the performances are good and the direction is interestingly unorthodox. Suitable for adults.

"Blow-Up is condemned by the National Catholic Office for Motion Picture Ratings.

For Old Golf Balls?

What do you do with a wastebasket made like a golf bag?

Varsity Sport Shop wants you to answer that one yourself. The wastebasket on hand in the shop is a really, truly golf bag, made of real leather by a well-known manufacturer of golf bags and sawed off to waste basket proportions. (That's why it's $25)

The basket itself has been set inside the bag, and on the outside there is even a place for magazines you aren't ready yet to toss inside.

Father's Day, anyone?

Choose from four kinds of necklines and a long list of colors in this dressy, boucle style.

A helanca nylon shell comes in about two dozen colors — got two dozen skirts? It has a classic round neck, or one with a little tie, a scoop or a V. Kayser's shell has stripes, and either a jewel neck or a mock turtle. A ribbed cotton shell comes with or without sleeves in good hot colors. (These shells go with those Collegetown separates we mentioned above). Shells are priced from $3.98.

Toss over everything, on a cool evening, Laudan's boxy orlon cardigan in 12 colors — we liked it especially in ivory. It's only $7.

On the lingerie side, we find a "lady doll" length gown, permanent press, in white with pastel embroidery or solid pastels. These gowns are $3.98 each, and come with a matching robe.

Kayser's nylon is lavender blue over lavender pink — very appealing. Comes in a color-on-color yellow, aqua or mint, too.

FORE

Your Serve. Name your sport. We're for archery, where you can just stand in the shade. Varsity Sport Shop, 124 Nassau, has no preferences and all the equipment.

About archery: you can buy bows from $7.95 to $65, and in between. About tether tennis: you can buy a set for $9.95 which includes the Official Rule book to settle all disputes. About badminton: you can spend from $6.50 up, with the "up" giving you a sturdier shaft and probably better holes in the net.

Tennis is Big this spring at Varsity, with the opening of the new courts at Community Park. Rackets can be bought for $4.25 complete, up to $25 for the frame alone, with a stringing job of maybe another $18. And plenty of prices in between.

Rackets come from Slazenger, Wilson, Bancroft — you name it. Shoes come from Converse, Jack Purcell, Sperry or Keds, and they are sized for men, women and children.

Ah, the women! They are graciously served this year by Varsity's rack of white tennis dresses, some demure, some stern, all great for tennis. Buy a coy little thing with pale pink inside a brief inverted pleat, or one with side slits faced with blue so the color shows when you flip back a leg — whoops!

A low yellow belt makes a brief skirt even briefer. Lace across a square neckline and around a hem, makes a white jacquard even more elegant.

And after the game, there's an orlon tennis sweater in white, piped narrowly with blue, $6.95.

What else are you game for? Riding? Here's the works, for riding youngsters, including those essential hard hats ($14.95). Sailing? Here's a waterproof nylon jacket in yellow, navy, burgundy for $11. Camping? Here's White Stag's three-round dacron sleeping bag with air mattress pocket, $15.95.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton, by their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

Mayor Patterson did.
Mayors of the Borough serve a two year term. Mayor Patterson was elected for the first time in November, 1961.

STUDENT IS SUICIDE
By Hanging. John R. Coleman, 24, a second-year graduate student, was found hanging from a door Tuesday morning by a janitor in his room at Pyne Tower, Graduate College. Borough Police said that Mr. Coleman, a resident of Bedford Hill, Westchester County, N. Y., left no notes to indicate why he took his life. Police said his parents are in Europe.
Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Ptl. Thomas Michaud investigated, after receiving a call from the campus police at 9 a.m. The body was taken to the Malher Funeral home.

RESPONSE MOUNTS
To Home Security Course. More than 100 home owners have called to make reservations to attend the course on home security being offered by Township Police.

Chief James B. Campbell said that calls have come not only from the Township but from residents in the Borough, Lawrenceville and Hopewell. He added that extra chairs would be brought into Township Hall to accommodate the large response.

The first program of the two-session course will be held Thursday evening from 8 to 10. It will cover alarm systems and a discussion of the psychology of the burglar.

The second session—they do not duplicate each other—will be held the following Thursday evening, April 13. It will include, in part, a discussion of locks and an actual demonstration of a breaking and entering by the police.

Detective Norman Servis, who conceived the idea for the course, said: "The only time we ever got to talk to the people was after a robbery had occurred." He added that he thought how much better it would be if the police were able to talk to people before hand and show them some of the things they could do to help prevent burglaries.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION: Wayne Birch (left) of Farr Hardware and Charles Perpetua, owner for 20 years of the Key Shop, 248 Nassau Street, will discuss locks and hardware next Thursday, April 13, in the second session of the course on home security being offered at Township Hall. Before opening his shop, Mr. Perpetua was employed for 21 years at Farr Hardware. Mr. Birch has worked there for the past 13 years. A display of locks to be used in the course is being prepared by Farr's. Story this page. (Staff Photo)

LIQUOR STORE ROBBED

By Discriminating Thieves. Varsity Liquors and J. B. Redding & Son, plumbing and heating contractor, were the targets of thieves last week. Both stores are located in a building at 234 Nassau Street.

Borough police said the culprits helped themselves to bottles of Scotch, bourbon and rye from Varsity Liquors. "They went around at random and took only the better brands off the shelves," said Chief Peter J. McCrohan. Also taken were a large number of cartons of cigarettes, which the owner Stephen Eory, estimated were worth about $200, and a dollar in change from a petty cash box.

Mr. Eory is still taking inventory to determine the amount of liquor stolen. Chief McCrohan said. The investigating officer, Douglas Watson, reported a panel in a rear door had been kicked in to gain entry.

Police had been called to the scene Thursday morning by Redding's, two of whose trucks parked in the rear had been rifled. Taken were assorted tools and plumbing supplies valued at more than $100.

HIT BY A CANDY MISSILE

Driver Loses Control. A Trenton resident lost control of his sports car on Nassau Street late Saturday afternoon when he was hit in the face by an object.

Eric Carpenter told Sgt. Robert Anderson that he felt a "hard object" strike the left side of his face. His car jumped the curb and stopped just short of an iron fence in front of First Presbyterian Church opposite Palmer Square.

Investigating, Sgt. Anderson and Mr. Carpenter found part of a peppermint patty rolled into a foil-covered ball. There was no damage to the car or property, police said, but Mr. Carpenter received a swollen jaw.

BIRTHS

Twins Born. Mr. and Mrs. Serge Trosko of Route 518, Skillman, became parents of twin boys on March 30 at Princeton Hospital. In all, seven girls and 11 boys were born at the hospital last week.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ian R. G. Edmonds, 48 Penn. Lyle Road, Princeton Junction, and Mr. and Mrs. Yosifumi Maki, 15 Stanworth Drive, both on March 27; Mr. and Mrs. David Sharp, 1-B Hibben Apartments, March 28; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cahill, 25 Langmoore Drive, Trenton, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, 118 Dodds Lane, both on March 29; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Danielson, Sunset Hill Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Keorkian, 14 Heather Lane.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to commend The Thorne Pharmacy for contributing their advertising space in TOWN TOPICS to the American Cancer Society.

In this day and age of blatant commercialism, it is most refreshing to see a company donate valuable advertising space to help lead the fight against one of society's most dreaded diseases.

My sincere thanks to The Thorne Pharmacy for their very kind generosity.

"Blow-Up" Protested.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This letter is in reference to the motion picture "Blow-up."

In seeing the picture, I could not believe what I was seeing. I believe that this picture will misdirect, corrupt and distort the minds of children into believing that this way of life is an acceptable standard of living. I also believe that this picture is dangerous to the morals and the welfare of our society.

I think that it would be a good idea if you could advertise that all parents see this picture — the picture they call the best for 1966. If they were to see this, I am sure that they would unite and stop patronizing pictures of this sort.

Pets Need Protection.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The New Jersey pets are in danger. Our New Jersey Branch of the Humane Society has taken the initiative in alerting us all to the cruel dangers inherent in Assembly Bill A686.

This suggested bill requires both pounds and shelters to release dog and cat pets to any authorized medical research society. This Bill in practice permits animal shelters to become collection agencies for laboratories.

It is necessary to oppose Bill A686. At the same time we ask all persons interested in humane work to support the Carlton-Marszette Animal Control Bill A410.

This Bill provides that pet theft or possession of fraudulent papers by a dealer constitutes larceny. All wardens must open their facilities to the public at reasonable and posted hours and cannot deny access to any owner looking for a missing pet. Owners of licensed animals must be notified of death of their animals killed on public streets or highways.

All interested in the passing of A410 should write to our Governor; to Assemblyman S. Howard Woodson, Jr., Chairman of the State County and Municipal Government Committee to which Bill A688 has been transferred. Please write to our State Legislators. We must defeat Bill A686.

English Instruction Essential.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

When will Princetonians recognize that in a democracy, public education is for everyone, not just for our culturally-advantaged majority?

We provide enrichment courses in various fields, yet we do not provide special English instruction for the student learning English as a second language. These academically disadvantaged children are expected to learn English by osmosis—sitting day after day in regular classrooms without professional assistance.

Volunteer tutoring consisting of a couple hours a week is not the answer. These students need professional teachers and a special academic program. Under Chapter 29 of Assembly Bill No. 21, New Jersey Law 1966, they are entitled to professional help.

It is time we faced this problem honestly. If the Board of Education cannot see its way to hiring a full-time professional teacher, then let it see that through our existing teachers all these children are given the proper instruction.

Let ALL the children of Princeton have the opportunity to learn to READ and WRITE English.

DOCUMENTS PRESENTED

To University Library. More than a quarter-million documents assembled by the publishing house of Charles Scribner's Sons have been presented to Princeton University in what Princeton librarian William S. Dix describes as "one of the most significant gifts in the two-century history of the University Library."

The collection includes the New York firm's correspondence with hundreds of American and English writers. Represented are such English and Irish authors as J.M. Barrie, Winston S. Churchill, Padraic Colum, John Galsworthy, Rudyard Kipling and George Meredith, and American writers William Faulkner, Thomas Wolfe, Henry James, F. Scott

Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, Ring Lardner and Edith Wharton.

The Scribner archives were presented to the University by Charles Scribner, Jr., the sixth member of his family to serve as the publishing company's president and a member of the Princeton Class of 1943. They reach back to the mid-19th century and help trace the literary history of the 19th and 20th centuries.

Nearly 1,150 authors are included in the files of correspondence. Also in the archives are letterbooks documenting Scribner's early publishing activities and business and financial accounts.

The collection comes to Princeton in three sections. The first two, covering clippings of the Civil War era, cor-

PROBLEM: EXPANSION

Hospital Seeking Solution. It was a re-run of the late show Tuesday night as Princeton Hospital appeared before the Borough Planning Board with the same presentation it has already made to the Borough Zoning Board and to Township planning and zoning boards.

The hospital wants to expand the Medical Arts Building in a three-stage operation. But there are problems.

These problems were on the road to solution late Tuesday night after an executive session of the board attended by Township Committeeman John Wallace of the Township Planning Board and Township Engineer Frank Quinby. The Borough Planning Board approved the hospital's plan in principle, then agreed to meet this week with members of the Township Planning Board to draft a resolution outlining recommendations for exits, entrances and internal circulation.

The difficulties faced by the hospital are these:

Problem Number One: The Borough Township line bisects the Medical Arts Building, so the hospital has to keep running back and forth between the two municipalities and their zoning laws.

Problem Number Two: Is the M.A.B., with its doctors who pay office rental to the hospital, an integral part of the hospital? The hospital says yes. Municipal authorities have doubts, and the Borough Zoning Board unanimously decided last month that the hospital had to apply for a use variance, not the special permit to which a non-profit hospital in a residential zone is entitled.

JAPANESE ART ON VIEW: A Japanese scroll is one of the art objects lent to the Princeton Day School for its Festival of the Arts, to be held April 22-25. Examining the scroll are, (left to right) the Rev. Carl D. Reimers; Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth, president of the Board of Trustees of the Day School and Mrs. Sally S. Ely, Festival co-chairman. The scroll is owned by Mrs. George Rowley.

Problem Number Three: The Borough Zoning Board washed its hands of the matter (temporarily) and sent the hospital to the Planning Board. But Homer Zink, hospital counsel, said on Tuesday night that he does not accept the legal reason for this referral. The Zoning Board used section 12-B of the zoning ordinance, the one about two or more major buildings on a single lot, as its reason for sending the hospital to the planners, but Mr. Zink says there are already two buildings on one lot: the hospital merely plans to join them.

Problem Number Four: This is the heart of the matter. Borough and Township are afraid of cluttered traffic, both within the hospital complex and outside, as patients, visitors and employees come and go from hospital and from doctors' offices.

The Board listened patiently as John W. Kauffman, the hospital's administrator, showed his slides, and psychiatrist, surgeon and heart specialist explained how much a sick man benefits when the doctor has first-rate hospital lab facilities so close at hand, and can reach an emergency patient from his office in seconds.

Dr. Benjamin Wright, president of the hospital's medical and dental staff, said that Medical Arts Building doctors had talked about moving away, but decided against it because they would lose the hospital's lab and wouldn't be close enough to their patients for emergency care.

Traffic Is Problem. Arthur Morgan, Planning Board chairman, conceded all these arguments, but told Mr. Kauffman and the assembled trustees, that the Planning Board's chief concern was traffic flow. "Undoubtedly we'll have traffic and parking problems," said Albridge C. Smith III, a former trustee and hospital counsel, "but we must solve these problems. Maybe we'll have to deck our whole parking lot, have one-way or wider streets or bus service."

Jack Owens, executive vice-president of the New Jersey Hospital Association, said that some towns have closed off streets so that hospitals could expand.

Mr. Kauffman said that he and the Princeton Chamber of Commerce are talking with Capital Transit about re-routing bus lines so that buses could stop at the hospital. He also mentioned once again the possibility of jitney service.

NEW HOME READY

For American Legion. Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will hold its first meeting in its new home at 95 Washington Road next Wednesday at 8. The new meeting hall is the former Bear Brook Tavern property.

The Post was forced to find new quarters when its former meeting place, the Swann Estate on Mercer Street, was purchased by the Seminary. After a long search, the Post settled on the Washington Road location.

The program, conducted by Commander Fred Klink, will

ASSAULT REPORTED

By Spruce Street Man. Raymond Wadsworth, 32 Spruce Street, told police that two men tried to assault him Saturday night, as he was walking on Spruce near Moore.

Police quoted Mr. Wadsworth as saying he had just turned onto Spruce on his way home when two men, hiding behind a tree, stepped out and grabbed him from behind. Mr.
Wadsworth reported that he gave a kick backward, injuring one of his attackers so hadly that his companion had to help him away.

Police said they later check-ed the hospital without success. Mr. Wadsworth described his attackers as Negroes, one about 5-8, the other about 5-11.

PLANNING NEXT TEEN DANCE: Four members of the board of directors of the "Drop In" make plans for a teen dance to be held next Saturday, April 15, at the YMCA.
From left are Jay Springer, Bill Walstad, Allison Yard and Lance Lambert. Other board members are Debbie Young, Maureen Hawley, Colleen Hawley, Sally Van Zandt, Kathy Watson, Paul Mazzarella, Fred Fox, and Nick Ryan. The board plans dances through the season with the help of the Hi-Y Club.

End the War in Vietnam. The usual Saturday noon vigil will not be held that day.

Buses will leave Palmer Square at 9:30 a.m., returning about 6:30 p.m. Seats may be reserved by calling 921-7246, and anyone may participate.

The march will start in Central Park, continuing through mid-town Manhattan to the United Nations building where demonstrators will be addressed by Martin Luther King, Dr.
Benjamin Spock and others.

Princeton residents working on the demonstration include Steven Slaby, Mrs. Reynold Steinhoff, Mrs. Carroll Pratt and the Rev. Mrs. Katharine Kent.

A drive to raise money for the national "Committee of Responsibility," the organization that is bringing war-injured children from Vietnam to the United States for treatment, collected $1,896.50, chiefly on the University campus.

The money was raised by the Princeton Ad Hoc Committee for Negotiations in Vietnam, a group composed largely of graduate and undergraduate students. Although the campus drive has ended, members of the Committee ask that contributions from the community be mailed to the headquarters of the Committee of Responsibility, 777 United Nations Plaza, 7-F, New York,

$325,000 PLEDGED

For YMCA-YWCA Construction. More than $325,000 of the $1,300,000 needed to construct new Y facilities has been received. The announcement came at the second meeting of the General Gift solicitation group.

Ralph S. Mason, General Campaign Chairman, thanked RCA's Research and Development Division for its support.
RCA's Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom and Arthur N. Curtiss headed this part of the campaign.

The fund drive, still in its initial phase, will provide money to enlarge the physical development plant in Princeton. The new facilities will make it possible for the Y to meet the increased demands of Princeton's growing population.

When the present YMCA
YWCA was built on Avalon Place in the mid-fifties, enrollment was 2,000. In the last decade, it has risen to 8,000.

Almost $1,000,000 will be spent on construction of the new athletic and meeting facilities. More than $125,000 will be devoted to furnishing the building while the remaining funds will go for landscaping, roads, parking, architects' fees and campaign costs.

Construction costs include a new gymnasium, squash courts, exercise areas, storage rooms, expansion of the boiler room, air conditioning and alterations to existing buildings.
New club rooms, nursery space and offices will also be provided.

R WE ARE STILL STUDYING PHARMACY

When a pharmacist graduates from his College of Pharmacy (now it takes 5 years or more), he must pass a state examination to prove his knowledge so that he can safely be trusted to compound and dispense drugs and prescriptions. At that time he is an expert on the storage, uses, safe dosage and the incompatibilities of every medicine.

The next day, an entirely new drug discovery may be released. To keep up to date with these frequent new products we carefully read our drug journals, medical publications and pharmaceutical suppliers' literature. Often a physician will phone us to find out if we have a new product in our prescription laboratory. The odds are we do, or we can get it the same day.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

The Sports Car for grown-ups— the Mercedes-Benz 230SL

At $6185, the Mercedes-Benz 230 SL ranks among the world's great sports cars. Motor magazine describes roadholding as "uncanny." Yet the 230 SL doesn't thunder, rattle, ride like an oxcart or look like a rocket ship. It's a civilized two-seater built for normal adults, not acrobats.

"The magic of this car lies instead in its refinement, comfort and superb road behavior," reports Autocar.

The car stands a mere yard and a half high. Yet it straddles the road with a track five feet wide. Tires seem to bulge out from the body sides. Note: These aren't ordinary tires, but radialply design, specifically tailored to the car's speed, weight and handling traits.

All four wheels are linked to a fully independent suspension system. This skillful engineering has eliminated any trace of a harsh "sports car ride" — as Autocar discovered: "When being really hurtled along, the 230SL sits down on the road beautifully, sweeping over bumps and undulations with the minimum of vertical movement and no sensation at all of wheels pattering up and down." No bone-jarring jolts; this is a civilized sports car — and with a wheelbase of less than 8 feet, an agile one.

No frazzled nerves
On the open road, the 230SL replaces the raucous bellow of most sports cars with a soothing hum. You can actually converse with your passenger in normal tones.

The major reason: a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine, with fuel injection replacing carburetors and hours of patient handwork to ensure running smoothness.

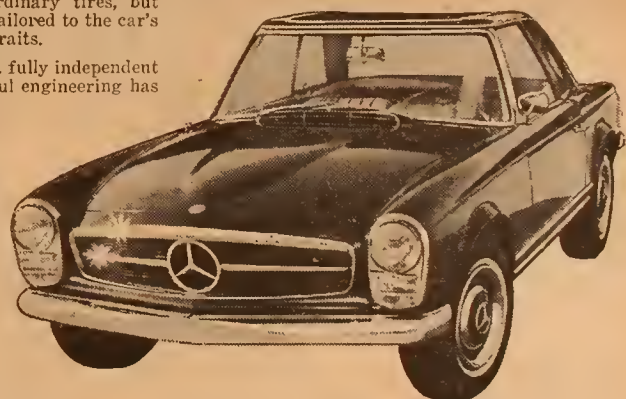

Superb stopping power
However vigorously you drive it, the 230SL cannot outrun its magnificent brakes. Up front are 9.9-inch disc brakes. Finned, 9.05-inch turbo-cooled drums act on the rear wheels. A gentle power assist transmits pedal pressure to these brakes — softly enough to avoid sudden lurching stops, strongly enough to deliver instant response

Bring your wife
Take your wife on a test drive in the 230SL. She'll be hard put to find drawbacks.

For example, your passenger enjoys more forward leg room than in a Rolls-Royce. Seats are firmly upholstered, contoured chairs — not skimpy "buckets." You are sealed against wind gusts and cold with roll-up side windows and one of the tightest-fitting convertible tops ever devised.

Dual heater and ventilation controls let you select whatever interior climate you want, while your passenger does the same.

The 230SL even quashes that ancient complaint about sports car trunk space. A carpeted alcove behind the seats holds large parcels or small children. The trunk carries 12 cubic feet of luggage.

A safe sports car
The 230SL's foremost safety feature is its incredible maneuverability. The car body itself is a patented safety feature. On violent impact, front and rear sections are designed to collapse to absorb shock. Inside, even the steering wheel hub is designed for safety. It is padded, not pointed. Lethal projections are absent. Door handles are recessed, control knobs are made of pliable materials, and the rearview mirror is spring mounted to snap off if struck.

Three cars in one
You can choose from three 230SL models: the soft-top Roadster, at $6185*; the hardtop Coupe, at $6343*; and the Roadster/Coupe, which gives you both tops, at $6587*.

AWARDS PROGRAM SET
By PHS Lallo Department.
The 24th annual Latin Awards Program and Tea at Princeton High School will be held this Thursday afternoon, marking the presentation of certificates to all students who have maintained a B average or higher during the year. The speaker will be Prof. Anna S. Benjamin of Rutgers, whose topic will be "Hadrian in Athens."

The Madrigal Singers, directed by William Trego, will sing a number of Horace's Odes in the original Latin, the first time a school group has presented a program of these odes in this country. The original music for the odes was gathered by Mrs. Allston Dana of Princeton from libraries and museums abroad.

The awards will be presented by Mrs. Alan W. Richards, assisted by Mrs. Sigurd T. Peterson and Frederick Carman. A reception and tea will follow.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY

To Disorderly Person Charge. Peter Fiumenero, 31, 111 Patton Avenue, and James Hall, 42, 145 John Street, appeared before Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. Monday to answer charges of being disorderly.

Fiumenero was fined $35 for assaulting his wife. Hall was sentenced to 60 days in the Mercer County Workhouse for malicious mischief. He was charged by Ptl. Thomas Michaud with breaking a glass in closed door of the Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, Witherspoon and Maclean Streets.

In traffic court, Jonathan Bonner, 19, 148 Mercer Street, was fined $15 for failing to give a proper signal. Ptl. Douglas Watson was the complainant.

PLATE WINDOW BROKEN

At Foyer Pharmacy, A ninety-seven-foot plate glass window of the Foyer Pharmacy, 160 Witherspoon Street, was broken Saturday night by a small stone.

Borough Chief Peter J. McCahan said that the stone left only a small hole but the window was cracked end to end. "It will mean replacing the entire window," he said. It was valued at $200.

FOUR LOSE LICENSES

Under Point System. Four Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles under its point system.

Walter P. Mazur, 20, Cherry Hill Road, lost his license for three months; Paul H. Dyer, 20, 153 Jefferson Road, lost his for two months; Raymond W. Burnett, 23, Rocky Hill Road, his for 45 days; and David Conception, 23, Princeton Nurseries, Kingston, one month.

BRUSH FIRES QUELLED

Before Doing Damage. Two field fires occurred Monday afternoon in the Township.

At 2:26, one piece of fire apparatus extinguished a fire on the property of Delos Schoch, Ridgeway Road, before flames could reach a neighbor's garage. At 4:05, two Township patrol cars extinguished a small brush fire near the 11th floor apartments on Faculty Road.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

On Local Housing Study. The Local Housing Study Group of the League of Women Voters will hold a series of unit meetings Tuesday and Wednesday. Results of its year-long study will be presented.

Members and other interested women will be asked to express their opinions on problems such as the enforcement of the present housing code, possible changing of present zoning laws, possibilities for cluster-type housing, apartments and ways to change the present housing system. It is hoped that through this discussion a consensus opinion will be reached.

Another controversial question to be broached is the possibility of constructing housing for low and middle income families with special priorities for certain groups.

The date and place of each unit meeting: Tuesday at 9:30, Methodist Church; Tuesday at 8:15 p.m., home of Mrs. Victor Bruce, 77 Longview Drive and home of Mrs. Arthur Miller, 2 University Way, West Windsor; Wednesday at 12:30 p.m., home of Mrs. Joseph McCusker, 225 Clover Lane; and Wednesday at 8:15 p.m., home of Mrs. Mark Salomon, 28 Jefferson Road, and home of Mrs. Robert Kany, 212 Cherry Brook Drive.

RETIRED TO MEET

At Dorothea House. The Princeton Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, April 13, at 2 in the Dorothea House, 120 John Street. All persons 55 years of age or over are invited to attend.

At last month's meeting, new officers were elected. They include: J. Edwin Wilson, president; George Vander Houten, vice president; William Hahada, program chairman; Mrs. Mahel Allen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen Stevenson, recording secretary; Mrs.

Marguerite Sterzl, treasurer; Mrs. Matilda Shelton, refreshments; Arthur Stetser, transportation; and Rudolph A. Wellnitz, publicity.

RIDDING DPENS

For Postal Truck. Postmaster John L. Dilworth, has announced the opening of a bid period for the hire of a three-quarter ton truck. Postal employees will use the vehicle on the average of 5 hours daily for the delivery of relays and parcel post.

Bid forms are now available at the office of the Superintendent of Mails, Basil Ferrara.

RUMMAGE SALE SET

By Three Women's Groups. The annual rummage sale jointly sponsored by B'nai Brith, Hadassah and Women's Division of the Jewish Center will be held next Monday-Wednesday at 15 Spring Street. Items offered for sale will include jewelry, curtains, pots and pans, clothing and toys.

Hours for the sale are Monday and Tuesday from 9:5 and Wednesday from 9:3. Chairmen for this year's event are Sarah Zackheim, B'nai Brith, 921 6817; Susan Loew, Hadassah, 924 6662; and Harriet Heilwell, Women's Division, 921 6682. Further information may be obtained by contacting these women or Lillian Bricks, 924 2853.

NEWCOMERS TO ASSEMBLE

For Decorating Talk. The Princeton Newcomers will hear a talk by Clair H. Wallick at their monthly meeting Wednesday at 12:30 at the Avalon Place YWCA. Mr. Wallick is associated with Nassau Interiors.

A former employee of B. Altman and Co., Mr. Wallick has also participated in the Metropolitan Museum Antique Lecture Series and worked for the Philadelphia Museum of Art. Nursery service will be provided for pre-schoolers over 1-year old.

investigate

The advantages of 1st Trenton's Investment Management Services are worth investigating. Why should you be burdened with all the intricacies of handling investments, the legal complexities, the whole world of tax problems? It takes a real professional to thread his way through them. There's no reason for you to take on these headaches yourself when you can call on a whole team of professionals at 1st Trenton whose careers are devoted to coming up with investment answers. They take over the complex details and provide you with continuous investment supervision. And don't be shy just because you're not a millionaire. You don't have to have a million dollars, or even a hundred thousand. Forty thousand will do.

HERE'S HOW OUR INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICE WORKS

The officer responsible for your account first considers your own personal income requirements and your long-term objectives before any investment decisions are made.

He takes the initiative in making recommendations for any changes in your portfolio. Every effort is made to select securities of sound, growing companies which are most likely to increase the value of your investments. And it's so simple to begin an Investment Management Account at 1st Trenton. Actually, each account operates under an informal letter of instruction.

Our Investment Management fee is modest. It is computed annually on the market value of your securities at the rate of 1/2 of 1% up to $100,000, and even less on larger amounts. (The Internal Revenue code provides that fees paid for the management of securities producing taxable income are deductible.) Keep in mind... this fee includes the entire service—investment advice, regular statements, record-keeping, custody of securities and collection of dividends and interest.

1ST TRENTON HAS A FULL LINE OF TRUST SERVICES. If you want us to consider an estate plan for you, the bank can act as Executor and Trustee, and provide for continued investment supervision for your beneficiaries.

- We would like to discuss our investment management service with you. Call JACK WALLACE, Assistant Vice President at 989-7700 for an appointment now.

PRINCETON GIRL KILLED
In Accident to France. Donna Marx, 23-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Marx, 227 Washington Road, was killed in an auto accident on Easter Sunday in LeBarp, France. She had been living in France since September doing photographic modeling.

A native of Williamamantic, Conn., Miss Marx graduated from Princeton High School with honors in 1960. She attended Barnard College and earned her bachelor's degree from New York City College in 1964 as a math major.

She was employed by IBM in White Plains, N.Y., as a programmer secretary before she took a leave of absence from the firm and traveled to France for a vacation. She decided to remain in France to study French and model near Paris.

She was on her way to a modeling assignment with her manager when the accident, which also killed another passenger, took place. She was last in Princeton at Christmas when she returned home for a three-week visit.

Mr. Marx is employed by Morris Maple & Son, Princeton paint and wallpaper dealers. In addition to her parents, a sister, Pamela, also survives.

Private graveside services will be held this Thursday in Van Liew Cemetery, New Brunswick, the Rev. Wayne Hadley of the Somerville Baptist Church officiating. Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Warreo of 44 Maple Street died on March 31 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness.

A lifelong resident of Princeton, Donald of ETAOIN ETA. Mrs. Warren was a member of Court Moran No. 378, Catholic Daughters of America; the Ladies Auxiliary of Princeton Post 78, American Legion, and the 40 and 8.

Surviving are four sons, Alan of Princeton, Donald of Trenton, Walter of Moorestown and Francis of Graettinger, Ia.; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy MacDonald of Rocky Hill; 13 grandchildren, a great-grandson; a sister, Miss Bridget K. Whitlow of Princeton, and a brother, James Whitlow of Princeton.

Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Dr. Margaret Grant, 72, of 23 Braeburn Drive, an economist and leader in world peace organizations, died of cancer on April 2 in University Hospital, New York City. She was the wife of Dr. J. Frederic Dewhurst, an economist and former executive director of the 20th Century Fund.

Dr. Grant retired in 1965 as executive director of the Council on World Tensions. She became executive secretary of its predecessor, World Brotherhood, in 1955 after serving for nine years as chief of the studies unit of the Economic and Social Council of the Secretariat of the United Nations.

A native of Foxburg, Pa., Dr. Grant was graduated from Sweet Briar College in 1915. She received a doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia University in 1938.

In 1917-18, she served on the research committee assembling data for the Paris Peace Conference under Col. E. M. House. She did editorial work on the conference diary and documents compiled by David H. Miller, legal advisor to the American Commission to Negotiate Peace.

Dr. Grant was a member of the investment advisory and sales department of the Guaranty Company of New York from 1924 to 1927, and served on the research staff of the Rockefeller Liquor Control Study Committee in 1932. She was associate director of economic research for the 20th Century Fund from 1933 to 1935, and a researcher for the European survey committee on social security of the Social Science Research Council from 1935 to 1938.

Dr. Grant, who played piano and violin, was associate director of the national orchestral survey sponsored by the Carnegie Corporation in 1938. She was executive secretary of the Berkshire Music Center in Lenox, Mass. from 1939 to 1943, and secretary of the Koussevitzky Music Foundation since 1942.

She was dean and assistant to the director of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, in 1945-46 and executive secretary of the American International Music Fund, Inc.

She was a member of the American Statistical Association, the American Academy of Political and Social Science and the Cosmopolitan Club.

Dr. Grant was the author of "More Security for Old Age," published in 1937; "Old Age Security: Social and Financial Trends," 1939, and with H. S. Brettinger, "America's Symphony Orchestras and How They Are Supported," 1940. She edited "South Asia Pacific Crisis," published by Dodd Mead & Co. in 1964.

Her marriages to Albert Marsh and the late Harold O. Schneider, ended in divorce. Surviving besides her husband are a son, Harold Schneider; two daughters, Mrs. Leslie C. Bigelow and Mrs. Leonard M. Voight Jr.; a sister, Mrs. Kenneth McDougall, and nine grandchildren.

Interment was private. Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Henriette T. Noyes of 134 Mercer Street, died suddenly on March 31 in Princeton Hospital. The widow of C. Reinhold Noyes, she was a trustee of Westminster Choir College and the Columbus Boy-choir School.

Mrs. Noyes, who was born in Columbus, Ohio, was a member of the board of the Philadelphia Lyric Opera, a founder of the Minnesota League of Women Voters, and for several years was a member of the national board of the League of Women Voters.

She belonged to the Colony Club, New York; the Acorn Club of Philadelphia and Trinity Episcopal Church.

Surviving are a son, Henry T. McKnight of Wayzata, Minn.; a daughter, Mrs. William H. Moore of Greenwich, Conn.; a step daughter, Mrs.

William Driver of Needham, Mass.; and a step son, Charles E. Noyes of Cold Spring Harbor, L.I.; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

A memorial service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. Canon Robert R. Spears Jr. officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family, under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home. Contributions may be sent to the Westminster Choir College or the Columbus Boy-choir School.

Miss Helen Emerson, 87, of 37 Edgehill Street died on March 28 in St. Luke's Hospital, New York City, after a brief illness.

Born in Patriot, Ind., Miss Emerson came to Princeton in 1916 to work in the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey with the Rt. Rev. Paul Matthews. Her association with the Matthews family began long before she came to Princeton, and she continued to work with Bishop Matthews after his retirement in 1937.

Following the death of Bishop Matthews in 1954 and the donation of his house "Merewick" to the Princeton Hospital, Miss Emerson maintained close contact with branches of the Matthews family on three continents. At the age of 80, she made her first trip to England and Europe to visit members of the family and later repeated her visits several times.

Less active in recent years in parish and diocesan affairs, Miss Emerson retained a lively interest in the Episcopal Church. Not long ago she obtained support from Trinity Church in the Appalachian section of North Carolina.

Miss Emerson was cremated and her ashes were buried in the Matthews family plot in Princeton Cemetery.

Rocco F. Leiggi, 79, of 79 Linden Lane, died on April 4 in Princeton Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Maria P. Leiggi.

Mr. Leiggi a native of Italy, was a Princeton resident for the past 62 years. He was retired, having been employed as a gardener by Princeton — Continued on Next Page

The Rev. Henry J. Smith, 89, of Rocky Hill Blawenburg Road, Skillman, died on April 1 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness.

For 36 years, the Rev. Mr. Smith held pastorates in Washington, D. C., at the Petworth, North Washington and Bathany Baptist Churches, retiring in 1933. After his retirement, he was parish visitor for the Calvary Methodist Church in Ambler, Pa., and the Princeton Methodist Church. He came to Skillman nine years ago to live with his daughter, Mrs. Harold L. Warner.

Born in Pittsford, N. Y., the Rev. Mr. Smith graduated from Colgate University, in 1909 and received his M.A. from the American University, Washington, D. C.

Also surviving are two grandchildren; and a brother, William E. Smith of the Philippine Islands. He was the husband of the late Mary E. Smith.

The service was held at the Princeton Methodist Church, the Rev. Dr. Leon W. Gibson, pastor, and the Rev. Charles Marker of the Moorestown Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Fort Lincoln Cemetery, Washington, D. C. Local arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home. Contributions may be made to the Rocky Hill or Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squads.

Mrs. Emma S. Heck, 83, died on March 30 in Helene Fuld Hospital. She was the widow of Andrew H. Heck. Born in Princeton, Mrs. Heck lived most of her life in Lawrence Township. She was a charter member of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Arthur M. Schmitt of Lawrence Township, with whom she lived, and Mrs. Andrew Richards of South Weymouth, Mass.; six grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The service was held in Trenton, the Rev. Norman S. Kindt officiating. Interment was in Ewing Church Cemetery.

Tracey A. Tolo, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Tolo Jr. of Hopewell, died on April 1 in Princeton Hospital. She would have been one year old on April 3.

Also surviving are a brother, William F. III, at home; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tolo Sr. of Princeton, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Priolo of Philadelphia. She was baptized in St. Paul's Catholic Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery, under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Nena Marshall, 71, of Hightstown, died on March 29 in Princeton Hospital. She was the widow of James H. Marshall.

Born in Richmond, Va., Mrs. Marshall lived in Hightstown for 38 years. She was a member of the Mount Olivet Baptist Church. At the time of her death she was living with her grandson, Snellings Patterson of Allentown.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Patterson of Chicago; a son, Edward Hayes of Princeton; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The service was held at the Mount Olivet Baptist Church, the Rev. J. D. Bedford officiating. Interment was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Kathryn C. Hoyt, 51, of 2620 Pennington Road, Princeton, died on April 1 in Princeton Hospital.

JOHNSON AND '68? What are President Johnson's chances of being re-elected in 1968? Pretty good in the opinion of Peter Ferrara (left) and John Costas. Most feel the President's political future hangs on what happens in the war in Vietnam.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you think President Johnson can be beaten in 1968?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

John Costas, 10 Spring Street, retired restaurant owner: It's hard to say. I tell you one thing: if he raises Social Security, which he's talking about and which he is in favor of, he going to get 15-20 million people over 65 voting for him. The money we're getting now, we're only existing on. I think he would win. I don't think the war will have much of an influence. Nobody likes war, but it wasn't his fault it happened. I think he's doing the best he can.

Peter Ferrara, Trenton, Princeton taxi driver: No, I think he has a better chance of staying in than before. I think the people like the job he's been doing. So far, he hasn't done anything that I disapprove of.

William Habig, Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville, engineer: No, I don't. I don't know of anyone at the present time to beat him. Certainly, the Republicans don't have anyone. In his own party, Bobby Kennedy might, but I don't think Bobby will go for the nomination.

Thomas McClelland, Trenton, custodian, Princeton University: No, I don't think so. I just feel he's about as good a politician as we can find. I don't see where anyone else is as good or intelligent as he is about running the government. I think he's doing the best job he can.

Albert Wertheim, 230 Witherspoon Street, Department of English, Princeton University: I think if the Republicans set up a strong candidate, and if we're still in Vietnam, and if that candidate — like President Eisenhower — promises to get us out of Vietnam, then I believe Johnson could be defeated.

Mrs. Hugh B. Morrison, Sycamore Lane, Montgomery Township, psychiatrist-social worker: Yes, I do. I think he's been an unpopular president. So many people are unhappy with the war that if the Republicans put up a decent man, I think he will win.

Miss Willa Baechle, student, Theological Seminary: It looks like it. I heard on the radio recently where there are a greater number of Democrats registering — as Republicans than Republicans switching to Democrat but I don't know how strong this trend is. I would hesitate to say he would be smashingly defeated. I think it's possible but it would be a very close race.

Mrs. Lilliao Gerfel, 42 Harriet Drive, housewife: I think if the Vietnam war continues as it is, a Republican candidate might have a good chance of beating President Johnson. I really think the Vietnam war is the important issue, at this point.

George Coon, West Keansburg, bus driver: The way I look at it right now, yes. Frankly, I feel the people are unhappy with his Vietnam policy. Although he has advisors, he is our Commander-in-Chief. He's still the man who can say, "All right, let's go in there and get it over with." It can be done and I believe that is what the people want: to get Vietnam over with.

Alfred Ryao, student, Theological Seminary: I suppose he could be. It's possible. I feel people, generally, are rather unhappy with some of his policies.

J. Neil Arriagtoo, Pierson Place, Hopewell, business economist: It would be a little bit early to say, but he could be vulnerable, very vulnerable because of a multitude of domestic and foreign policy reasons. If the Republicans run the right man, they might beat him.

Chris Petrak, student, Theological Seminary: I don't think the elections in '68 were any indication of a major change of Democrat back to Republican. Perhaps they were just a normal kind of off year reaction. It depends a great deal on who the Republicans nominate and what the conditions in Vietnam are — whether they've improved or gotten worse. He could be beaten but it doesn't happen very often. It took a depression to beat an incumbent the last time that happened.

Edward L. Goldberg, Trenton, realtor: Right now, the sentiment of the country seems to be against him because of the Vietnam war. So it would seem to me that whether he can be beaten or not depends on how many important men come out in support of his program for Vietnam and what happens between now and then. I think the whole thing hangs on the Vietnam war.

Hirayama Takehide, student, Theological Seminary: Sure. I think the people in the country are unhappy with him. The Vietnam war is the biggest reason. Not only Vietnam, though, but his foreign policy as a whole, especially in regard to Asia.

Walcott N. Baker, Mt. Lucas Road, personnel: I think a great deal that depends on the progress of the war in Vietnam. I would say that is the most vital issue for his political future.

P.T.O. GROUP TO MEET

On Teacher Effectiveness.
The annual open P.T.O. meeting sponsored by the Littlebrook Parent Study Group will be held next Wednesday, April 12, at 8:15 p.m. at Littlebrook School.

The meeting will center around a panel discussion on teacher effectiveness. Members on the panel include Donald Medley, educational researcher from Educational Testing Service, Lloyd Taylor, principal of Littlebrook School and John Wolfkiel, assistant superintendent of regional schools.

Also scheduled for the evening will be a report by the Parent Study Group and its chairman Mrs. Benjamin Rosser on the results of parent and teacher questionnaires. The discussion will be followed by refreshments in the library.

GOUCHER TRIP PLANNED

For Prospective Students.
An overnight trip to Goucher College in Baltimore has been scheduled for prospective students by the Goucher College Alumnae Club of Princeton.
Acting as hostess for the group will be Margaretta Coyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan D. Coyle, 11 University Place, a senior at Goucher.

The trip will begin on Friday, April 28, at 2:30. The girls will have dinner and spend the night in a dormitory at Goucher. On Saturday there will be an open house for prospective students including a campus tour, brief lectures and demonstrations by members of the faculty and informal talks with members of the administration and faculty.
The group will return to Princeton by 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Those interested in going on an introductory visit should call Mrs. Robert Hillier, president of the Goucher Alumnae Club, at 921-8089 as soon as possible.

Place, on or before this Monday.

PROJECT UPWARD BOUND

On Upswing with Grant. A $70,710 grant has been awarded to Princeton University by the Office of Economic Opportunity to operate Project
"Upward Bound." The project, part of anti-poverty program, is designed to encourage youngsters from low income families to seek a college education.

The grant will enable 50 high school sophomores and juniors from Mercer, Burlington, Essex and Hudson Counties to undergo two months of intensive schooling at Princeton.

After the summer session, counselors will give follow-up guidance and tutoring, if needed, to the participating students for the rest of the year.

YOU'LL NEVER BELIEVE We Liked The Discipline!
Three Princeton High School students shattered some adult ideas about teenagers in a recent report on New Jersey Boys State.

"You'll never believe us," they told their sponsors, American Legion Post 76, "but we liked the discipline . . . we even marched!"

There was a delayed ripple of laughter from the startled Legionnaires, who have been sending high school juniors to Boys State for 15 years.

"We were given a choice about marching," Ken Nelson, now president of the high school's senior class, said later. "My city was the last to fall in. They were expressing individualism, I guess."

"The kids were mature," was the way John King of 90 Battle Road put it. "They were amazingly quiet with the speakers. It wasn't a drill sergeant type of thing. It was more a spiritual discipline. People kept saying you are the finest and that you should act that way. If anybody got out of line, he would have been looked down on as childish . . . You feel somehow that it's your duty to act in accordance with the high school and the post that sent you."

The third Boy Stater reporting, Wesley Forgue of Cranbury, commented, "There were 900 boys there, but I never found anybody who in the least wanted to pick a fight."

In the audience were the boys who have since been chosen 1967 Princetonian delegates to Boys State. Thomas Yoder, Michael Reich and Bill Walstad, and their alternates Christopher Haring and Chris Stokes, all of Princeton High. They heard about a high-gaited week at Rutgers, where Boys State holds forth each June. "The overall schedule was so tight," Ken comments. "The friendship was what was really remarkable. With 900 boys there, I may have made friends with 200."

"You don't know anybody there," Wes adds. "You get to know them and find out they're pretty good athletes. Then you read about them later in the papers. Some of the captains of basketball teams were in my city, another one was a football captain."

Assigned to either the Federal or National political party on arrival, the boys on each dormitory floor got organized as a "city." "People who were running for local offices gave talks. They were all either class presidents or student council presidents, etc." The cities were named after presidents.

"We had a choice of four city governments: (1) city manager (2) council form (3) a strong mayor with a weak council (4) a strong council a weak mayor. The majority chose the strong mayor form."

According to Wesley, "Teenagers don't know much about local government. Before I went, I could tell you much CHOSEN ON THE BASIS OF LEADERSHIP, character, scholarship and service, Princeton's three delegates to Boys State this June will be (from left) Thomas Yoder of 133 Meadowbrook Drive, Michael Reich of 184 Loomis Court and William Walstad of 286 Shady Brook Lane, all juniors at Princeton High School. more about the Federal government than I could about Princeton." He ran in the city campaign, lost, and was later appointed city treasurer.

The first full day introduced the boys to the fast, varied schedule that was to rule the week. There were three lectures a day, with nationally known figures as speakers. Their topics ranged from soil conservation, public health, public safety, appointed offices, highways, state government, public institutions, open space and law. ("A lot of the kids tried to get in that one," John remembers.)

After the afternoon lecture the sports schedule started, with each city fielding its own teams. "The cities made up their own songs, insulting other cities. Later we got together by counties and it got to be kind of verbal battle!"

After the evening lecture, counties named after World War II military leaders were organized by joining two cities. Elections were held for county officials, freeholders, Assemblymen and Senators.

"All these kids are great politicians!" say one Boy Stater. "There was a party caucus for candidates for governor, then nominating conventions where each candidate had to speak. The hands played."

"A lot of boys tried for governor," John said. "They had to have a petition signed with 50 names in two-and-a-half hours, with a 9:30 deadline." "And we were all on our honor not to sign more than one petition!" Ken added smiling. "The candidate who got along with most was the one who won, they said matter-of-factly. "We held primaries, and then there was one big day of campaigning for the two candidates for governor."

At this point the Boy Staters pointed out to the Legionnaires young Drew Steketec of Ewing Township, the successful candidate for governor, who was waiting to show slides of Boys State.

"Drew, here, was the winner," one said, obviously pleased with the choice. Later

MUSIC In Princeton

TWO HOURS OF BOREDOM
Concert "Deplorable." The final Series I concert of the season took place at McCarter Monday night, featuring Yfrah Neuman, violinist, and Randolph Hokanson, pianist. The program included the Sonata No. 3 in D Minor by Brahms; the Sonata No. 2 for unaccompanied violin (1965) by Richard Rodney Bennett; Four Pieces, Opus 7 by Webern; and Beethoven's Sonata in G Major, Opus 96.

It would be an understatement merely to write off this event as a disappointment. It was two hours of uninterrupted boredom for this listener at any rate, though the Princeton audience must be commended on its good judgment not to have awarded the violinist the benefit of an encore. (Since this reviewer has been attending these concerts in McCarter and elsewhere on the Princeton scene, he cannot remember an audience giving so strong a rebuff to a soloist.)

In a sense a concert of this type is deplorable for both the artist and the listener. In this instance, Mr. Neuman displayed considerable technical equipment, but very little emotional involvement and even less tonal brilliance.

In a work such as the Brahms "D Minor" Sonata, this detachment is inexcusable. For all of Brahms' classical leanings as regards formal structure, he was still a romanticist and the long sweeping lines of his melodic writing must be expressed with more flamboyance and exuberance than Mr. Neuman was able to produce Monday evening.

The best playing of the night was handled by Mr. Hokanson at the keyboard. He played brilliantly, cleanly and gave meaning to the music at hand while his partner fiddled away with sincerity, no question, but with little artistic expression.

Vladimir Ashkenazy

communicating to his listeners.

The unaccompanied Sonata by Mr. Bennett did not do much to improve matters. Its dull academic style reflected the pedant who knows all the rules of compositional technique, is thoroughly familiar with the violin idiom, and then proceeds to write a lesson in proper unaccompanied violin writing. What resulted was 15 minutes of endless repetition and elaborations based on 20th century stylistic mannerisms of a handful of major and minor composers.

The Webern pieces, composed more than half a century ago, sounded fresh and quite contemporary in many ways. What an original this man was! Admittedly, the movements are fragments when compared with his two great Viennese contemporaries, Schonberg and Berg, but the power and dramatic intensity of these miniatures are just as rewarding and would have appeared more impressive had they not followed the uneventful Bennett score.

The concluding composition on the program was a Sonata in G by Beethoven that is not too often performed. Though an occasional glimpse of the great master can be seen in a passage here or a phrase there the material throughout this sonata is very meager in the way of inspired motive or thematic construction. Even the developments are weak and often padded. Perhaps a stronger performance might change this writer's opinion, but here again, Mr. Neuman displayed a thin, wiry tone, coupled with an aloofness that did nothing to enhance whatever intrinsic value the work may possess.

Soloists in the Requiem, and instrumentalists in the accompanying string quartet, will be Jacqueline Smith, soprano (a secretary at RCA); Larry Blazer, baritone (student at Westminster Choir College); Deborah Perrish, viola, and Carolyn Glyn, violin (Westminster); Philip Blackmar, violin (undergraduate at Princeton); John Kalajian, cello (Verbeyst Cleaners) and Everett Shaw, viola (research leader, Western Electric).

In addition to the Requiem the chorus will sing several light classics and spirituals.

PIANIST TO PLAY

Last, on Series II, Vladimir Ashkenazy, Soviet pianist, will appear Monday at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre as the final artist in the 1966-67 Princeton University Series II.

Mr. Ashkenazy will play Mozart, Prokofiev and Chopin. The concert is sold out, but stage seats are available at the McCarter box-office.

Born in Gorky in 1937, Mr. Ashkenazy won first prize in the Queen Elizabeth Competition in Brussels when he was 19. A jury including Arthur Schnitzler, Emil Gilels and Robert Casadesu chose him over 59 other competitors.

Since that time, he has toured Belgium, Holland, East and West Germany, Poland and, in 1958, North America. His three New York recitals in 1966 were played to capacity houses.

OPERA IS BASED ON WAR

Civil War in Spain. "Donna Petra, The Widow Ochoa," an opera set in the Spanish Civil War, will be given its premiere performance on Saturday, April 16, at 8:30 in the State House Museum Auditorium, Trenton. It will be given again on Sunday April 17 at 3 p.m.

Olga Gorelli has composed the music to a libretto by Frederick Olessi. Soloists will be Mary Meyers, Tim Nolen and Byron Steel. Choreography is by Milla Gibbons, and the dancers will be Roland Guerard and Jeffrey Aaron.

they noted that each candidate had a campaign manager. "The kids kind of liked Drew's manager a lot. He was funny and held your attention."

The following day the boys voted, using voting machines, and hung around the Rutgers gym waiting for the results. That night was the governor's inauguration, followed the next morning by Assembly and Senate sessions at the State House in Trenton.

"I was Clerk of the Senate," Ken reported. "It was amazing how smoothly everything went. They passed six or seven bills in a couple of hours between Senate and Assembly."

One of the boys said, "All around Princeton you hear down with Viet Nam, even in the schools. You hardly ever salute the flag, or if you do, it's mechanical. But at Boys State, you get a feeling that you are part of this country..."

The 1967 Boys State is scheduled for June 25 to July 1 at Rutgers. Robert C. Schmidt, Post 76's chairman for Boys State for the past 15 years, reports that this year one of the boys, Bill Walstad, will be sponsored by the Princeton Lions Club, a new venture for the Lions.

The cost is only $45 per boy, but as Ken Nelson sums up, "You learn a lot about county and state government, but it was the friendships that I thought was the most value of Boys State."

MAIL CARRIERS NEEDED
At Princeton Post Office. Several positions as mail carrier are open at the Princeton Post Office. Postmaster John L. Dilworth has announced. The pay ranges from $2.64 to $3.60 an hour for a 40-hour week, with overtime rates and an extra 10% of basic hourly pay for night work between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

The post office offers advancement, liberal retirement, vacations (13 to 26 days), sick leave with pay, life insurance, incentive awards, health insurance and uniform allowance.

A driver's license is necessary and a rating of at least 70 on the written test. Application form 5000-AB is available at the post office.

FETE PICTURES WANTED
By Hospital Committee. The Princeton Hospital Fete Committee is preparing a history of its fetes during the past 14 years and seeks pictures residents may have taken.

Photos should be mailed to the public relations department Princeton Hospital, Princeton, with identification of donor and persons in the picture noted on the back. The pictures are not returnable.

PAHR NAMES OFFICERS
For Coming Year. Henry Drewry heads the list of new officers who have been elected by the Princeton Association for Human Rights for the coming year. Rowland Cox and Seymour Alpert were chosen vice-presidents. Mrs. Frankie Hines secretary and George Geary treasurer.

The officers will be assisted by a standing committee of 15. John Counts, as former president, will serve ex officio. The new officers have asked that those interested in employment information or help in finding employment call Morgan Harris, 924-2518 after 5, or Mrs. Geraldine Boone, 924-1149.

directing members of the Princeton Community Orchestra in Mrs. Gorelli's score.

On the same program, Clyde Tipton will conduct his own composition, "Anthems for Male Chorus," to the accompaniment of brass, bells, piano, electric guitar and organ pipes.

The presentation is under the sponsorship of "Ensemble Six Production," the group that presented Mr. Olessi's Easter work, "Exos" at the Unitarian Church in Princeton, and "The Poetic Impulse" at the State Museum auditorium last fall.

Members of "Ensemble Six" are Mr. Olessi, Mrs. Gorelli, Mr. Tipton, Ralph Clafone, Olga Calahrese and Manuel Monedero.

SPRINGTIME MUSIC

From Woodwinds. Music by Mozart, Beethoven and Ibert, three pieces from the 19th century and a contemporary work will be heard on Friday, April 14, at 8:30 p.m. in a concert of chamber music for woodwinds to be presented by the Friends of Music at Princeton. The concert will be given in 10 McCosh Hall. It will be open to the public without charge.

The featured work will be the Quintet for Piano and Winds in E Flat Major, Opus 16, by Beethoven, a composition which musicologists believe to have been modeled on a Mozart quintet (K.452) heard earlier this year; the two works have the same key, instrumentation and number of movements and are similar in formal outlines.

The musicians will also present a Mozart divertimento, the "Partita" for woodwind quintet composed in 1948 by Irving Fine; Jacques Ibert's "Trois Pieces Breves" and three pieces by Adolphe Deslandres, a 19th-century French composer.

Performers will be John Heiss, flute; Martha Helms, Oboe; Roger McKinney, Clarinet; Edward Helms, bassoon and Susan Ringeisen, horn. Shirley Batchelor will be piano soloist in the Beethoven.

YWCA TO CELEBRATE
50 Years of Service. The Princeton YWCA will celebrate 50 years of service to the community on Thursday, April 20, with a golden anniversary luncheon at the Princeton Inn. The luncheon will be in honor of the entire YWCA membership, their guests, former members of the executive board and former presidents of the YWCA.

The program will include a performance by the 40-voice chapel choir of Westminster Choir College under the direction of Robert Simpson. Mrs. Betty Gales, heard on WHWH's Merry Go Round, will act as master of ceremonies.

A specially prepared birth day cake will be cut by Mrs. Charles W. Link, former president and executive director of the YWCA, and Mrs. Bertha Brandon, a founder of the Princeton branch. They will receive assistance from Mrs. James A. Kerr, the current YWCA president.

Representing the years 1938-1966 will be Mrs. Arthur Buddington, Mrs. William Tucker, Mrs. E. Harris Harrison, Mrs. Lewis V. Thomas, Mrs. T. Guyler Young, Mrs. William H. Sward, Mrs. Oscar Sussman, Mrs. John J. Criscitelli, Mrs. Paul T. Bortel, Jr., Mrs. James C. McKeever, all former YWCA presidents who are still residing in Princeton. Mrs. William Babcock of Montclair, president of the Princeton YWCA in 1955 and a member of the YWCA national board, also plans to attend.

The luncheon is being planned by the membership committee headed by Mrs. Ronald Enstrom. She is assisted by the Mesdames Jon K. Clemens, Robert C. McKinlay, William E. Jones, Robert Miller, Yvan Levasseur, Robert Levine, John F. Hoff, Jack C. Keeton, James Raderick, John Moran and Kenneth Clark.

WAXWOOD WINS AWARD

For Achievement. Howard Waxwood, principal of the original Witherspoon School, will be presented with the achievement award of the Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Fund at the Fund's annual dinner-dance Saturday. The award will be given in recognition of his unselfish service to the community as an educator and a citizen.

Mr. Waxwood served as principal of the Witherspoon School for 31 years. He has also been an active participant in a wide range of community organizations including the Witherspoon Presbyterian of Montclair, the YMCA of the Council of Community Services and the Princeton Historical Society.

ART WORKSHOP SET

At Studio-on-the-Canal. The spring term of art workshops for both children and adults will begin on Monday, April 10, at the Studio-on-the-Canal and will run through June 10.

Offered during the spring are children workshops in painting or ceramic sculpture on Saturday mornings and adult workshops in drawing, painting, sculpture. A drawing class for beginners will be held in the evening, as will a session in painting or sculpture. A morning landscape group will paint near by locations, and a professional model will be available for evening and morning sessions if there is sufficient interest.

Registration for the course is limited to allow for individual guidance. A complete listing of classes is available from the Studio.

SPACE IS SUBJECT

For Astronomers' Meeting. The Amateur Astronomers' Association will hold its monthly public meeting next Tuesday at 8 at the YMCA. Dr. Ernest de Haas senior scientist at RCA Astro Electronics will speak on "Time Table for Space Flight."

Dr. de Haas a native of Rotterdam, The Netherlands, will explain why spacecrafts with different missions have different orbital periods, and why some launch times are critical and some are not. He will also discuss flights to Mars.

FRESH AIR OFFERED

To New York City Children. More than 80 children from New York City are expected to visit Princeton area homes this summer under the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Many of the children have never been outside the city and have never seen meadows, farm animals and clean streets.

Handling arrangements for housing the visitors is the Princeton Jaycee Fresh Air Fund Committee, headed by Thomas Dennison of Lawrenceville. The committee will place the children, selected by welfare and other agencies in New York, in surrounding communities as well as Princeton.

ENGAGEMENTS

Moss-Harbison. Miss Margaret I. Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernis D. Moss of Leonia, to Ralph W. Harbison II, son of Professor and Mrs. Frederick H. Harbison of 114 Fitz-Randolph Road. The wedding will take place on June 3. Miss Moss is a graduate of the College of Wooster, Ohio, and served for two years with the Peace Corps in Costa Rica. She is a candidate for a master's degree at the Teachers College of Columbia University. Mr. Harbison was graduated magna cum laude from Harvard College. He served with the Peace Corps in Costa Rica for two years and is now studying at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University.

Coffee-Johnson. Miss Carol Ann Coffee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Coffee of Lawrenceville, to Gerald C. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Albert Johnson of Hackettstown. A summer wedding is planned. Miss Coffee, a graduate of Princeton High School and Pennsylvania State University, is a member of the Benjamin Franklin School faculty in Lawrence Township. Mr. Johnson, a graduate of Rutgers University, is associated with Xerox Corporation.

O'Banion-Barlow. Miss Patricia Ann O'Banion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. O'Banion of Hamilton Square, to Leroy H. Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barlow of Penns Neck. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss O'Banion, a graduate of Hamilton High School East, attended Hiwassee College, Tenn., and Rider College evening school. Mr. Barlow was graduated from Princeton High School and served for four years in the Marine Corps. Both are employed at the David Sarnoff Research Center of RCA.

ART In Princeton

APRIL EXHIBITIONS
PAA Juried Show. The Juried Members' Show of the Princeton Art Association continues at McCarter Theatre through April 26. The exhibits in various media were done by professionals, teachers, students, all PAA members who, in their work, reflect the activity of their organization which is completing its third year of stimulating classes, lectures and shows.

Outstanding in the McCarter exhibition is the natural prize winner, "Shore Study," by Lau Chen. Mrs. Chen who won first prize in last year's PAA show also, again has produced something with an idea carefully considered in sure design and dramatic effect. Building college against raw canvas, she has achieved texture and meaning in a rugged scene. Her other entry, "Autumn Gold," while not as powerful, is noted for its subtle color and the feeling of wind bending autumn branches against a silvery sky.

Gay and hot color is nicely handled in paintings by Peggy Battle and Nancy O'Connor. The latter's still life received third prize. Second prize went to Trudy Gluckberg's abstraction and honorable mentions to Charles McVicker, Helen Schwartz, Jane Szathmary, Ruth Skellern, Yvonne Burk, Marie Sturken and Margaret Johnson. Not "mentioned" but interesting to us were the figure study by Cintra Huber, "Houses" by Sylvia Rich with a sharp play of lines and planes, and Eunice Whiting's "Batsi," which, with old form and depth, has carrying color.

The ten prize winning exhibits from this show will be on view at the Festival of the Arts opening April 21.

At Gallery 100, The work of Gabor Peterdi, noted print-maker and teacher at the Yale School of Art, will be shown at Gallery 100 until April 23. A native of Budapest, Peterdi had his first show at the age of 15 and soon after won a Prix de Rome which started him on his way to Paris where he became a member of the "Avant Garde" of the '30s.

From one of his many publications, "Biography of My Landscape," comes a clue to understanding his approach. After living many years in war-torn Europe, the contrast of his next landscape in "gentle Connecticut was extreme, and when absorbed gave him the realization of "a poetic reality... an awareness of the eternal cycle of growing things." In truth, one can see he is acutely aware of the minutiae of nature and their place in building the overall scene, and we liked his comment that "big things are not all monumental and violence is not strength."

There is a lot to think about in looking at his monotypes and intaglios which are made up superimposed shapes, textures, and impressions on various background tones. His Alaskan subjects are perhaps the most interesting in their effects of eerie Arctic light and crackle of ice flows.

The etching are eloquent and easier to understand. Details of the fields and forests are composed, once in an overgrown mass of "Big Summer" and then with depth and force into a marvelous cross-hatched "Big Winter." Our favorite, and one which seemed to bespeak Peterdi's philosophy and technique is "Rolling Sea," a fascinating study of turmoil and relation of waves to clouds.

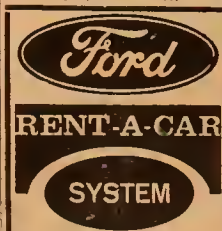

WORK BY PETER COOK

At the Nassau Club. During the month of April, the Nassau Club has on exhibition a group of recent portraits and landscapes by Peter Cook, Mr. Cook, a member of the National Academy of Design in New York, is represented in New York by Portraits, Inc. and in Boston by the Vose Galleries.

His winter studio is in Kingston, and in summer, Wiscasset, Maine. Though the show here is primarily for the enjoyment of the members, the Club welcomes visitors during the hours of 10 to noon, and 2:30 to 5:30 daily.

The portraits shown include several of Mr. Cook's latest — Continued on Next Page

THE WRONG BOX? Not at all. It's "Oxyrychus," an entry by Barbara Cook of 228-D Harrison, in the Jaycee art show. Mrs. Cook has used greys and black with white for the optical impressions on her wooden cube. Inside, behind the louvers, is the heart of the matter: a painting on the floor of the box. Viewers are Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Warnagiris. He displayed several of his palette-knife oils in the show.

jury. Joan B. Needham of Grovers Mill received second for her water color still life, "Number One," and Carolyn L. Johnson of Princeton for her oil landscape, "January," won third prize.

S. J. Kornecki of Levittown, Pa., Gretchen Southard of Princeton, Penelope Waage of Princeton and Marilyn Shields of Trenton were given honorable mention. Also receiving the honor were Mary Cytowic of Mercerville and Carolyn L. Johnson.

R. William Miller, Jr., chairman of the show, presented engraved silver bowls to the winning amateur artists. Serving as judges for the contest were Hugh L. Rawdon, Cintra Huber and Joan Shepherd.

"JOY IN CREATING"

Artist on View. "Children of Spring," an exhibit of works by Elizabeth Lawrence Kelly, Hunterdon County artist, will open this Sunday at Stuart Country Day School with a preview and tea from 4 to 6 p.m.

The exhibit, second in the school's "Joy in Creating" series, will be on view through April.

An artist at home in many media, Mrs. Kelly will show groups of children done in acrylics in pale blues and yellows. Other children have been painted on wood in acrylics sometimes combined with wallpaper and blocks.

Mrs. Kelly has done block paintings on children's play blocks mounted on wood, and large, abstract texture paintings combining painted tree bark or Canadian wheat with strong colors, like chartreuse or orange.

Mrs. Kelly exhibited in the New Jersey Artists' State-wide Exhibition, held last year, and her work was shown at The Little Gallery in Philadelphia and Bloomfield. She had a one-man show at the Nassau Club in 1965. The Stuart show will include many paintings never shown before in Princeton.

The Stuart Country Day School exhibit has been arranged by the Exhibit Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Peggy Kerney McNeil. Members are Mesdames James E. Burke, John J. Burns, Donald P. Donahue, Richard C. Flournoy, Marston Morse, Henry S. Patterson, David J. Scott and Percy H. Wood Jr.

Hostess chairmen for the tea are Mrs. Sido L. Ridolfi and Mrs. N. A. Considine Jr.

AFTER SEVEN YEARS, 61-0: Before coach Larry Ivan took over, the Princeton YMCA All-Stars, comprised of Princeton High School boys not on the school's varsity, junior varsity or freshman tennis, hadn't won a championship. Since then, the All-Stars have won seven titles in seven years, sweeping all their games for a 61-0 record. From left are: Coach Ivan, Leighton Newlin, Keith Carter, Rick Cunningham, all sophomores; Jeff Carter, a junior; Captain Tommy Hughes, Tim Halgh, both seniors; Reggie Swain, a sophomore; and senior Alan Downer.

NINE CREW RACES SET
At Carnegie Saturday. If April's early warm weather prevails again this weekend, Lake Carnegie's banks will be well lined Saturday for the nine-race program that will mark the opening of the spring rowing season. The first five will involve the 150-lb. crews of Columbia and Princeton; the last four, the heavyweights of Rutgers and Princeton, with the Logg Cup at stake in the varsity race.

The first event is scheduled to start at 2:45 when the second freshman '50's go to the stake boats, and four other races will follow at 15 minute intervals over the Henly distance of a mile and 5/16ths. The varsity lightweights will row at 3:45.

The first of the heavyweight crews, the second freshmen, will race at 4, followed at 20 minute intervals by the freshman, jayvee and varsity shells. The final race will begin at 5.

Ice that covered the lake until mid March has slowed the progress of Coach Pete Sparhawk's navy, but expectations are that Princeton will repeat its victory of last spring over the Scarlet. His boat is a good blend of experience and promising sophomores, with junior Pete Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson Raymond of Cherry Valley Road, installed as stroke for the second year.

Navy Here in Lacrosse. The national champions in lacrosse for three years, Navy, will deploy against Princeton Saturday at 2 on Campbell Field. Monday at 3, the Tigers will face Maryland here in a game postponed by snow from March 25.

The Tigers, 12-2 losers last weekend to John Hopkins at Baltimore, almost invariably find themselves badly outmaneuvered in the contests they play before the Ivy schedule opens. They have not won over any of the "Big Four" (Maryland, Johns Hopkins, Army and Navy) since 1963 and have defeated only Maryland of this quartet in the present decade. Against Hopkins, it was 3-1 at the half and the victors had 57 shots to 20 for Princeton.

Ball Team in Trouble. Ten days ago, Princeton's baseball team figured that if it ever warmed up, everything would be all right. The weather got better and better, but the ball team couldn't keep pace, losing three of its first four games through a variety of desultory exhibitions.

After the New Hampshire game on Wednesday was cancelled by wet grounds, Trenton State came to Clarke Thursday to open the season. The visitors may just be the only opponent in Princeton's first century of baseball to trail, 8-0 in the eighth, fail to make a hit until two were out in that inning and still win, 11 to 9.

The outcome hinged on the fact that the fireballing sophomore, Mike Fremuth, took himself out of the game with a sore arm after striking out the side in the seventh. A pitcher of extreme promise, he was doubtful this week as to when he would be ready to work again and the hit-shy Tigers will find it a long season without him.

Three other hurlers followed Fremuth to the mound, giving up eight walks, three hits and losing control of the game when their mates chipped in with three flamboyant errors. Earlier, Graham Marcott and Steve Cushmore had each worked three scoreless innings and Fremuth had added another but the Tigers couldn't preserve either the shut out or the victory.

Split with Maine, Cushmore came back the next day—Friday morning—to pitch a 4-0 shutout over Maine, scattering eight hits and going the distance. The Tigers cut their errors to two and generally gave a good account of themselves.

Marcott worked the afternoon game, had trouble with men on bases and lost, 5 to 3, as the team's error output moved up again to four. Junior Bob Weber's 350-foot home run gave the home forces a temporary lead but the defense again was inadequate.

Bob Sobditch and Tom Kennedy, two of the pitchers who were the victims of the Trenton State late-inning uprising, suffered the same fate Saturday when New York University scored all of the game's runs in the ninth to win, 5-0. One run would have sufficed—the losing Tigers made just one hit.

Trips to Temple and Villanova Thursday and Saturday of this week precede Seton Hall's visit to Clarke Field on Thursday, April 13. The Eastern League season starts two days later against Harvard but with Tremuth a question mark and both hitting and fielding strength below par, the Tigers are unlikely to make a run for the title.

ST. ANTHONY IS FOE
Of PHS Track Team. The Princeton High School track team opens its track season this spring with five consecutive home dual meets.

Steinert was due here Wednesday and its second opponent—St. Anthony—will be here Friday for a 4 p.m. contest. Princeton's third opponent next Thursday will be Ewing—the only school to defeat the Blue and White in dual competition last year.

In a pre-season workout with Ewing, the Little Tigers displayed weaknesses in the hurdles and some field events. "Ewing is a tough team," commented Coach Gerald Groninger. "They've got a lot of depth." There were no individual winners. Each event was run as a team event with four boys participating. Combined times and distances were used to determine the winners.

There were two bright spots, however. George Fifield ran his half mile in 2:03, prompting Groninger to move him there, instead of the quarter mile where he had been scheduled to compete.

Dan Tindall hurled the javelin 206 feet, which caused Groninger to temper his smile with a frown. "It's much too early in the season for Tindall to be throwing that hard," he said.

SEVEN TO PARTICIPATE
In Physical Fitness Test. Seven boys from Princeton High School will compete against the best-conditioned youths in the state Saturday in the Annual Marine Physical Fitness Test to be held at Mount Holly.

They are seniors Kipp Heacock, Warren White, Dick Morgan, Dave Stair, Sam Procucini, a junior, and sophomores Roy Hutson and Hank Wilkinson. They will be accompanied by Larry Ivan, a member of the physical education staff at the high school.

The test consists of five events: pushups, pullups, situps, squat thrusts and 300-yard dash. A perfect score is 500, the national average for high school boys, 250. "The events are run right after another with no break—that's what makes it so gruelling," commented Ivan.

The seven at PHS are averaging about 420, the highest score being the 450 compiled by Dick Morgan. Dave Stair had 447. Some of the feats these boys are accomplishing are 60 pushups and 85 situps in two minutes.

Tough? Try it.

TENNIS TEAM AWAY
For Friday's Opener. The PHS tennis team will open a 15-game schedule Friday at Pennsbury.

It will open at home Monday at 3:45 against Franklin and two days later, will play B.M.I. Henry Sommers, the only senior on the squad, is captain.

PEDDIE WEDNESDAY
For Lacrosse Team. Coach Bob Arbogast's lacrosse team will play its second game of the season next Wednesday afternoon at 4 on its home field, Community Park. Peddie will provide the opposition. The opener was played Wednesday against Fairlawn.

Those who will see steady action will be co-captains John Steiger and Paul Rice, and Mark Hoffman and Huston Webber—all midfield. On attack there will be John Rice, Brian McCarthy, Peter McCrohan and David Bush, with Rick Sisco, John McKeever and Alan Downer, defense. Dean Sutton will operate in front of the goal.

HOSPITAL WINS TITLE
In Industrial League. Princeton Hospital won its final game of the season, defeating RCA, 62-40, to finish one game ahead of Gallup Poll in the final standings in the YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League.

Don Silvers and Arnie Hirsch led the Hospital attack with 16 and 14 points respectively. Tom Connolly and Andy Holgiar combined for 23 points for the losers.

Tom Wood, 6-5 Princeton High School standout, scored 20 points and Kerry Klink, a former PHS player, added 16 to lead Gallup to an easy 57-39 victory over Cyanamid. High man for Cyanamid was Charlie Corbett with 14 points.

In the final game, ETS defeated Van Nostrand, 53-28, the latter failing for the fifteenth time to gain its first win. Clarence Gubert, Don Cowley and Joe Patrick scored all but six of ETS' 49 points. Gilbert hitting for a game-high 17. The best the losers could offer in return was an eight-point performance by Joe Price.

Next, the four top teams—Hospital, Gallup Poll, ETS and Cyanamid—will engage in a playoff.

The final standings:

TROUT YOUR DISH?
Try a Fly Saturday. The trout season officially opens Saturday at 8 a.m. for New Jersey anglers who will find 222,315 new adult trout stocked in Garden State waters.

The total includes 81,220 brook trout, 38,585 brown trout, 97,654 rainbow trout, 111 golden rainbow trout and 4,745 Donaldson Kamloops rainbow trout, according to Robert A. Roe, commissioner of the state's department of conservation and economic development. Additional trout will be liberated in state waters several times after the season opens. The total stocking through Memorial Day will exceed half a million fish.

CLINIC RESCHEDULED
For Midget Leaguers. The Midget League Baseball Clinic will be held Saturday from 10 to noon at the YMCA field. The training session, originally scheduled for March 25 but postponed because of the weather, will be directed by Leonard Krause and the team managers.

Boys playing their first season of Midget League baseball must attend the practice. Registration for the league has been extended to April 12 after which late boys can enroll only by applying directly to the Baseball Commissioner, Jake McCandless.

SIEJA HONORED
With Hall of Fame Spot. Stanley S. Sieja, a fencing coach since the age of 17 and Princeton's varsity fencing coach for the past 22 years, was one of eight representatives of the sport inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame last weekend.

Sieja began his coaching career as a student at New York University, where he continued to direct fencers for ten years. After earning the Dis-

Bel you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine!

Our famous 2-cycle, 3-cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V4 engine, too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speeds of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winningest car in the world an even bigger winner.

tinguished Flying Cross in World War II, he came to Princeton and began to work with a squad which trained in a fire house.

In 1952 he was selected as manager of the U.S. Olympic fencing team, and in 1964, two years after he was named NCAA coach of the year, he served as director of the U.S. Olympic fencing camp and coach of the U.S. team entered in the world championships at Warsaw. While at Princeton Seja has piloted his squads to winning records for the past nine seasons, and in 1964 he guided the Tigers to the national collegiate fencing championship.

TRYOUTS SCHEDULED

For West Windsor League. Team tryouts for the West Windsor Babe Ruth League will be held Saturday, April 13, at 1 at the Dutch Neck School. League play will open on Saturday, June 10, with the first half ending July 1 and the second half running from July 22 to August 9.

There are a few openings on each team for West Windsor boys 13-15. Applications for these spots may be sent to William Mooney, league president Alexander Road, Princeton.

Sponsoring the four teams in this year's competition will be Will's Shell Station, the West Windsor Lions Club, Lucar Hardware and MacKenzie Realty. Members of the league's executive committee will hold a meeting this Sunday at 2 at Mooney's home.

HEADED FOR SIU: Dan Tindall, crack PHS javelin thrower, will enter Southern Illinois University this fall.

DAN TINDALL SIGNED

By Southern Illinois. Dan Tindall, co-captain of the Princeton High School track team and an outstanding javelin thrower, will enter Southern Illinois University this fall. SIU track coach Lew Hartzog reported that Dan has signed a letter of intent to enter Southern Illinois.

As a junior last year, Tindall came within three feet of the PHS javelin record of 211-8 5/8 set in 1957 by Nick Kovalkides. In a practice meet last week against Ewing, the 6-1 1/2, 185-lb. senior hurled the spear 206 feet.

Tindall plans to enter a pre-medical program at SIU. The current school record for the javelin at SIU is held by Joe Beachell, who graduated from PHS in 1962.

DOG SHOW SCHEDULED

For May 7. Arrangements for the nation's largest outdoor, bench dog show are in preparation for May 7. The event will be held on the N. J. National Guard's 112th Field Artillery Grounds on Eggerts Crossing Road.

Dr. Armour C. Wood, Trenton Kennel Club president, estimated that nearly 3000 dogs would be shown to an anticipated 30,000 spectators. Management of the affair will be handled again by the Foley Dog Show Organization, Inc., and its representative, James F. Mulvey.

Twenty acres of parking have been set aside, according to Mr. Mulvey, and a special exit for exhibitors has been provided to eliminate last year's jam-up following the show.

Mrs. M. Lynwood Walton, general show chairman, said that the premium list has 22 specialties showing at Trenton, of which 18 were at the 1966 TKC Dog Show.

BOWLING NOTES

Bill Davall Rolls 660. Bill Davall posted one of the highest series rolled in many weeks in the Tri-County Firemen's League last week, rolling games of 233-224-203 for a 660.

Harry Kahny had 216-193-201-610 and Elmer Perantoni had 200-201. High single games were Charles Appleget's 244 and Art Parr's 210.

In the standings, Mercer No. 3 (52 points) replaced Plainsboro (50) as the top team, picking up six points to none for Plainsboro. K. F. D. advanced from fourth to third place with 46 points, and Princeton No. 1 dropped one rung to fourth.

In the Nassau League, Jim Shely fashioned the week's highest game, a 266. He sandwiched this with 181-191 for a 638 series. In an almost carbon copy performance, Al Spencer rolled a fine 251 middle game but failed to reach 200 in his other two for a 601 effort.

Mike DeStefano rolled a 246, while Charles Perpetua had games of 199-209. Dan Hanley rolled 412.

The tie for first place between Cifelli Electric and ager Garage remained in tact. Each has 52 points. Princeton aviation and Bearbrook follow with 48 and 44.

Mike Basile exploded with a 265 first game in the Three-Man Classic League, but, like Shely and Spencer, he dropped off to a 189-182-636. Frank Delneso worked the pins for a 199-226-181-606.

High single games: Guido Zineti, 228; Mike Pinelli, 223; and Jim Regoli, 218.

Colonial strengthened its hammerlock on first place and now leads Proaccini Contractors, 57-48 1/2. Decker's Dairy is third with 44.

Nassau Del and Balestrieri, threatening to reduce the B League to a two-team race, maintained the point spread between each other, each team sweeping the opposition for six points. Trailing Nassau Del (58 points) and Balestrieri (56) are Princeton Del (46) and Maul Electric (42).

Bill Penelli and Bill Kiefer each rolled consistently fine

$1,639

What's the catch?

There isn't any.

$1,639 is the suggested retail price of the port of entry for the VW sedan.

The price includes Federal excise tax and import duty. It also includes: built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, 2-speed windshield wipers, front seat belts, adjustable bucket seats, back-up lights, 4-way emergency flasher, and sideview mirror.

It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay?

The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense: the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra. (Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers.) And that's it.

Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

Ivan Named Coach

Princeton High School athletic director Joseph Jinsoli announced Monday night that Larry Ivan has been named basketball coach. He replaces Tony Borzok who resigned last month after 14 seasons.

Ivan is coach of the junior varsity football team and is assisting track coach Gerald Groninger. He joined the physical education staff at the high school last September.

Previously, Ivan had been at the Witherspoon School (on Quarry Street) since 1958 where he coached soccer, basketball and baseball. The Princeton YMCA All-Star basketball team (picture, page 28), which he has coached for the past seven years, has, in that span, won 61 consecutive games without a defeat.

He lives at 79 Jefferson Road.

PHS NIPS STEINERT

On Haigh's Single, Princeton High School, which lost seven baseball games last year by one run, won its opener Tuesday afternoon by defeating visiting Steinert, 3 to 2.

In the bottom of the seventh, with two out, second baseman Tim Haigh singled down the middle to score Mark Fischer with the winning run. His jubilant teammates surrounded Haigh and shouted: "We're on our way!" Tom Wood, who went all the way for the Little Tigers, scattering 10 hits, was the winning pitcher.

PHS will try to make it two in a row Friday when it travels to Cathedral. Game time is 4 p.m.

Captain Rich Volz had opened the final inning for the Blue and White with a single. Then came a crucial play. Fischer rapped a shot at the Steinert third baseman who fielded the ball cleanly but hesitated. Finally, he threw quickly to second but the second baseman dropped the ball and both runners were safe.

However, it looked as if the rally would die when Butterfloss forced Volz at third and Wood popped to the infield. Then Haigh connected off losing pitcher Rich Schnell.

After Steinert scored the game's first run in the third on two hits and an error by left fielder Jay Springer, PHS came back with two in the fourth.

Tom Yoder led off with a bunt single and went to second on a wild throw by the third baseman. Fischer singled sharply past the shortstop and Tom Butterfloss was safe when Steinert's pitcher and first baseman got mixed up trying to field his slow roller.

Wood Lines Single. Wood then had the onlookers buzzing when he sent a drive deep to left but it curved foul. It had grand slam written all over it. Undaunted, Wood promptly lined the next pitch over shortstop to score Fischer.

Haigh walked to load them up again. However, Springer grounded to first, forcing Butterfloss at the plate, and catcher Nick Ryan grounded out to second to end it. "Just one base hit would have broken the game wide open," said Coach Harry Zoll.

Steinert tied it in the next inning on a walk, a stolen base, a throwing error by Ryan and a single. In the next inning Steinert loaded the bases but Wood got Gary Hohman, Steinert's catcher and cleanup batter, swinging for the third out.

PHS collected nine hits off starting pitcher Terry Sprinkle and Schnell. Springer and Fischer each had two. Two glittering fielding plays were turned in by Yoder and Haigh.

Starting for the Little Tigers were Butterfloss, Haigh, Yoder and Volz in the infield; Springer, Fischer and sophomore Tom Graham in the outfield and Ryan behind the plate.

LESLEY BUSH VICTOR

In AAU Diving Meet, Lesley Bush of Princeton, 1964 Olympic diving champion and 1965 graduate of Princeton High School, won the women's one-meter diving crown at the National AAU indoor meet held Saturday at Arlington, Texas. She upset the defending champion, Sue Gossick of Trazana, Calif., 433.10 points to 428.75.

Miss Bush, now a sophomore at Indiana University, led all the way. Both she and Miss Gossick qualified to represent the United States in the Pan American Games this summer.

SWIMMERS WIN HONORS

At YMCA Championships, Princeton's YMCA Flying Fish Club placed 28 junior swimmers in the Central Atlantic Area YMCA Championships in Silver Springs, Md. Competing were the six fastest qualifiers in all age group events from northern New Jersey. Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The Medley Relay team of Bill Cook, Chuck Hector, Dave Mancino and Andy Bolster won a gold medal in the 10-year and under competition. Chuck Hector won another gold medal and set a new national YMCA record in the 25-yard, 10-year and under breaststroke competition.

Billy Cook added two more gold medals in the individual events by winning the 25-yard butterfly. Robert Meusel placed second in the 15-17 year old 100 yard freestyle.

The Girls' Team placed third in team points in its competition, trailing Montclair YMCA and the Towson, Md. YMCA. The sole gold medal winner was Jane Fremont with a victory in the 13 and 14 year old 100 yard freestyle.

News Of The CHURCHES

PULPIT EXCHANGE SET
For April 23, Princeton pastors whose denominations are involved in the Consultation on Church Union will exchange pulpits on Sunday, April 23, coinciding with the national program sponsored by the Consultation.

The exchange is expected to take place in a majority of the parishes of the 10 communions participating in the Consultation on Church Union: the Methodist Church, Protestant Episcopal Church, the United Church of Christ, Presbyterian Church, U. S.; United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.; African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Disciples of Christ and Evangelical United Brethren.

In Princeton, Calvary Baptist Church is a participant because of its dual-affiliation with the United Church of Christ, one of the original members of the Consultation on Church Union.

Princeton clergy who are participating and the church they will preach are: the Rev. E. Rugby Auer of Trinity at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer of Calvary Baptist to Kingston Presbyterian; the Rev. Dr. Leon W. Gibson of Princeton Methodist to St. Andrew's Presbyterian; the Rev. Harry I. Lauer of All Saints' Chapel to First Presbyterian; the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton of St. Andrews to Princeton Methodist.

Also, the Rev. James L. Mechum of Kingston to Trinity Church; the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel of First Presbyterian to All Saints' Chapel and the Rev. Harold A. Thomas of Witherspoon to Calvary Baptist.

Since its founding in April 1962, the Consultation has met five times, including a session in Princeton under the chairmanship of President James I. McCord of Princeton Seminary. The sixth session, to be held May 1 to 4 at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., will be devoted largely to discussion and approval of the principles of structure and organization of a United Church.

A document entitled "Principles of Church Union," representing the agreement which the Consultation has reached over the years, is now in use by hundreds of congregations involved in local inter-church study groups throughout the nation.

DEDICATION PLANNED
At Pennington Church, The new sanctuary of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Pennington, will be dedicated Sunday by the Rev. Alfred L. Banyard, bishop of the Diocese of New Jersey. The cornerstone laying is scheduled immediately prior to the 8 a.m. Holy Communion service, and the building will be dedicated during the morning mass.

Bishop Banyard will also confirm a class of about 30 adults and children during the 10 a.m. family service. A reception for the bishop and the new members follows.

St. Matthew's new church structure is connected to the existing parish hall, replacing the former sanctuary constructed in 1926. At the right of the entrance is a new chapel that will seat about 25 persons. The building includes seven classrooms.

Constructed in contemporary style, with sweeping, broken rooflines, Gothic arches and a brick exterior, the new church seats 240 worshippers. A large, rough-hewn wooden cross, which is back-lighted, is in sharp contrast to the formal "free-standing" marble altar below.

There is a four-panel stained glass window in the narthex, and seven stained glass windows depicting saints and prophets in the nave. A feature of the nave is its simplicity, from the oak beams and pews and exposed brick walls to the

THE LAMENT OF JOB, a dramaturgy by E. Lawrence Gibson of Princeton Seminary's Theatre Workshop, will be presented at 8 p.m. this Thursday in Miller Chapel at the Seminary as part of the on-going arts festival "Spring Pourri." rough plastered pulpit and the Rev. Solomon Gwei of the Cameroons and the Rev. Paul Rakotarirovony of Madagascar, all engaged in advanced study at Princeton Theological Seminary.

GROUND-BREAKING HELD
By Hillsborough Church. Four children turned the first spadefulls of earth on Sunday for the new $70,000 church school building for Hillsborough Presbyterian Church, Route 206 and Homestead Road. The structure is the first of three units the six-year-old congregation plans to erect on the 8½-acre site.

Participants included Mrs. Julia Hopper, wife of the organizing pastor, the Rev. Dr. Oran C. Hopper; the Rev. Stanley M. Taylor, associate synod executive for the New Brunswick Presbytery; the Rev. Edward O. Poole, pastor, and Ruling Elder Charles A. Haug, chairman of the building committee.

The church school will have classrooms on the upper level and a fellowship hall on the lower level, following the natural slope of the land. William S. Drake of Belle Mead is general contractor.

The Hillsborough Presbyterian Church held its first service in the Hillsborough School in September 1961, organized as a mission after a house-to-house canvass by the Rev. Dr. Hopper. It was formally recognized as a church on May 12, 1963. When Dr. Hopper turned his ministry over to the Rev. Mr. Poole in September 1964, he said of the young congregation he had found in the growing Hillsborough area, "This is a congregation with no weddings, no funerals, but plenty of baptisms." The adults will still worship in the Log Cabin Chapel, giving the new church building the highest priority.

After the ceremony, a fellowship supper was held in the rectory, located next to the church on Main Street, was purchased in 1956, and the parish hall was constructed two years later. During the past year some of the church school classes were held in the rectory or the Pennington Grammar school across the street.

The current vestry of the church includes Henry Berchtold, Donald Duckworth, David Fisher, Robert Hunt, Jack Streed, James Wright, Mr. Marden, Mr. Hanks and Mrs. Mills. Marlin Miller is junior warden, Frederick Bradley is treasurer and Mr. Hanks is financial secretary.

TO REVIEW BOOK
About Missionary. "Angel at Her Shoulder," by Kenneth Wilson, will be reviewed on Monday by Mrs. Mildred K. Cooper at the spring luncheon of the First Presbyterian Church Women's Association. The book recounts the experiences of a woman missionary on Formosa, now Taiwan.

Mrs. Cooper, a member of Trinity Methodist Church, Philadelphia, attended Mary Baldwin College and was a lecturer at Wesley Junior College, Delaware. She is a lecturer for the Federated Women's Clubs and a licensed exporter of her denomination. Her daughter, Mrs. James R. Faus, lives in Princeton.

Reservation for the luncheon, scheduled for 12:15 p.m., will be received by the church office through this Friday. Nursery care will be available.

ADULT SERIES TO BEGIN
At Calvary Baptist. A new discussion series starts this Sunday at 10 in Calvary Baptist Church, with the topic "Is the Missionary an Ugly American?" Dr. C. Howard Hopkins is co-ordinator.

Resource persons include Dr. Lien-hwa Chow from Taiwan, the Rev. Somen Das of India, Hartigen Reformed Church, where slides were shown illustrating the "pioneer" days of the church, with comments by Mrs. Hopper.

"VIETNAM PROFILE"

Film Showlag Set. "Vietnam Profile," a film concerned with the need and courage of the Vietnamese people and the ministry of American missionaries, chaplains and servicemen, will be shown at 7 p.m. this Sunday in Princeton Methodist Church. The commission on missions is sponsor.

The film was produced by Dr. Bob Pierce for World Vision, Inc., which supports an international aid program to build refugee centers, orphanages and gain support for widows and cripples.

A free will offering will be taken. Dessert will be served.

BULLETIN NOTES

A hake sale will be held this Saturday at First Baptist Church, starting at 10 a.m. Funds raised will go to the church's Women's Day. Phone orders are welcomed and will be taken by Mrs. Mattie Booker (924-5356), Mrs. A. B. Harmon (921-7387) and Mrs. Edwards (924-1521).

Thirty-two people signed the charter last Sunday at Prince of Peace Lutheran Mission services in the Maurice Hawk School, West Windsor. Sixty signers are needed to accomplish the first step towards organization as a church within the Lutheran Church of America, according to Albert Bruchini, who urges interested individuals to sign up now. The mission will have a Holy Communion service at 10:30 a.m. this Sunday, followed by a coffee hour. Young people will hold a planning session at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnt Midland.

The Rev. James R. MacColl of St. Thomas' Church, Whitmarsh, Pa., is the guest preacher at All Saints' Chapel this Sunday. He will speak at 9 a.m. morning prayer and 11 a.m. Holy Communion services.

Calvary Baptist Church choir will lead the 11 a.m. worship service this Sunday offering two J. S. Bach compositions, the cantata "Jesus, Thou My Constant Gladness" and motet VI "Praise the

Revival Continues

The revival and spiritual renewal services at First Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. A. A. Booker of Alexandria, Va., continue through this Friday.

The services are held at 8 p.m. each evening. All are welcome to attend.

Lord, All Ye Nations," Mrs. Jean Thomas and Edwin Morrison are soloists. Mrs. Maud D. Thomas is choir director and organist.

St. George's School Choir of Newport, R.I., will be in the chancel of Trinity Episcopal Church this Sunday.

"Greece: The Inner World" will be shown at 8 p.m. this Friday in the campus center auditorium at Princeton Seminary as part of the "Spring Potpourri" festival. The 60-minute movie features Katina Paxinou and Alexis Minotis in climatic segments from three tragedies, "Hecuba," "Oedipus Rex" and "Prometheus Bound," offering an insight into the Greek awareness of moral law. Robert Graves is narrator. The setting is the ancient theatre at Delphi.

Duke Ellington's concert of sacred music, filmed by CBS in December 1965 at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, will be shown at 8:30 p.m. this Monday in the Seminary campus center auditorium. Entitled "In the Beginning, God," the concert is a landmark in musical expression of faith.

The Princeton Art Museum will be toured by the Women's Division of Princeton Jewish Center next Wednesday, beginning at 10:15 a.m. A business meeting at the Center follows with a slate of officers presented by the nominating committee: Mrs. Gerald Golden, chairman; Mrs. Reuben Cohen, Mrs. Harold Staras, Mrs. Seymour Bogdonoff and Mrs. Frank Lewin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble of the Princeton Family Service Agency is the speaker this Friday in the discussion series sponsored by the Women's Associations of Kingston and Community Presbyterian Churches. Her topic is "Marriage: Give and Take, or Give Or Take." She will speak at 9:30 a.m. in the Community Presbyterian Church, Cuyler Road, Kendall Park.

Sermon Topics this Sunday include "What's It All About, Elia?" Observations on "The Arrangement" by the Rev. Robert L. Cope of the Unitarian Church and "Undoubting Peter," by the Rev. Dr. Leon W. Gibson of Princeton Methodist Church. Both services are at 11.

Obituaries

ington, died on March 31 at her home. She was a teacher in the Grice Junior High School, Hamilton Township.

A lifelong Pennington resident, Mrs. Hoyt was a graduate of Miss Fine's School and Connecticut College for Women. She was a founder of the Pennington Theatre Club.

Surviving are a son, Stuart M. Hoyt Jr., at home; two daughters, Mrs. Louis Damiani of Trenton and Miss Grace C. Hoyt at Meredith College in Raleigh, N. C.; her mother, Mrs. Priscilla Chatten of Pennington, and a sister, Mrs. Edith C. de Santa Cruz of New York City.

The service was held in Pennington, the Rev. Arthur S. Musson of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church officiating. Interment was in Ewing Cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Collins, 79, of York Road, Hightstown, died on March 31 at the Doctor's Nursing Home, Windsor.

A Hightstown resident for 68 years, Mrs. Collins was a member of the Gospel Mission of Hightstown and served on its advisory committee.

There were no survivors.

The service was held in Hightstown, the Rev. Robert S. Turton of the Gospel Mission officiating. Interment was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Henry H. Rahens, 59, of Skillman, died on March 31 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness.

He was a supervisor and former president of the New Jersey Neuro Psychiatric Institute, where he lived.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence N. Rahens; three sons, Henry V. of Levittown, Pa.; Charles H. at home, and John V. in the U.S. Air Force; two grandchildren; a brother John in Hollywood, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Leischen of Miami, Fla., and Margaret Wallner of New Fairfield, Conn.

The service was held in Hopewell. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Henry Oakland, 72, of Lincoln Avenue, Griggstown, died on April 2 in Princeton Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Olga E. Oakland.

A retired painting contractor, Mr. Oakland was born in Norway, and was a member of the Bunker Hill Lutheran Church.

Also surviving are a son, Henry of Ramsay; a daughter, Mrs. Grunhild Knudsen of Griggstown; seven grandchildren, a great-grandchild, a brother, John of Long Island, and another brother and two sisters in Norway.

The service was held in the Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, the Rev. Sanford Soma officiating. Interment was in Griggstown Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home. Contributions may be sent to the church building fund.

DELIGHTFUL TURN-OF-THE-CENTURY TOWN HOUSE, happily settled in among other early charmers on a pleasant West End street. Mellow, warm and sunny, comfortable but not cumbersome, this clapboard character would be a love to retire to. Statistics: appealing entry hall for sitting or spillover entertaining, living room with fireplace, dining room with adjoining glassed-in porch, kitchen utility-pantry, 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, wee garden for pleasure without pain. NOW OFFERED AT $64,900

DOGWOOD, TULIP TREES, PIN OAKS, CEDARS — in fact a veritable grove — make a peaceful setting for this immaculate Northwest Township home. (The foundation planting and the roses are quite special, too.) The pleasant inside consists of a good-sized living room with an interesting stone fireplace and pretty bay window, dining room enclosed porch, fine kitchen with eating area, two downstairs bedrooms and tiled bath, two upstairs bedrooms (one large, one a magnificent dormitory suite plus bath, a big, light, dry cellar with separated space for laundry, play and study.

That marvelous second floor makes this house a natural for a family with teenagers. And after they have flown the coop, the house can easily be "shrunk" back to a comfortable one-story for the deserted parent! An adjacent stop for all Township school buses and a country feeling combined with enough neighbors for companionship make this a fine spot for children of all ages. $55,000

THE BEST IN BUCKS COUNTY

When you buy a home, you want the very best for yourself and your family. The same rule should apply when you're renting an apartment.

That's where Plaza Park comes in — with all the privacy, comfort and freedom of a suburban home, yet all the advantages of apartment living. And you can move in tomorrow.

Your rent pays for all utilities, including electricity. There are no extras. Centrally air-conditioned with huge rooms and giant closets. And a very nice neighbor! Plaza Park is the best address.

From Trenton—Over Calhoun Street Bridge, straight out West Trenton Avenue, about one mile to Plaza Ave, then left 100 yards to site.

TV REPAIR
AT YOUR SERVICE

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

We were re-arranging our

WAREHOUSE

last week in preparation for large shipments of

SUMMER MERCHANDISE

and came up with some

REAL 'DANDIES'

which we are offering to you at

1/2 PRICE

This Thurs., Fri. and Sat. Only!

Odds and ends of CLEAR GLASS STEAMWARE. Goblets, sherberts, intermitting with wines and cocktails. Not matched patterns. Regular to $1.75, starting at 39c per stem.

Collection of imported (from Europe) ARTIFICI-AL FLOWERS. Roses, lilies, larkspur and others, all extremely realistic reproductions at 1/2 original price.

A collage of CANDLES in various sizes and colors (not many similar), but completely serviceable 1/2 and less.

Collection of Italian and other Mediterranean POT-TERY AND DECORATIVE GLASSWARE. Formerly priced 3 to 25 dollars each,
now from $1.49 and up.

METAL SERVING TRAYS,
some with wood handles.
Assorted colors and shapes, perhaps a small scratch here and there. Regular $4.95, only $2.49.

A miscellany of PAPER PARTY GOODS (Discontinued, un-matched patterns) consisting of plates, cups, napkins and table covers. All priced 1/2 manufacturers "list."

A PICTURE, A PLAQUE
who lost a "mate" or just didn't find a buyer at original price . . . Just half original.

A gay group of summer serving pieces attractive to teens for ice cream and soda parties. Fine quality, but original price was a little too high . . . now half!

. . . And odd lots of this and that . . . reduced to make space for new "GOODIES" arriving daily.

(SORRY . . . our usual free gift boxing and exchange service not applicable on sale items.)

"SWEET BRIER" KENNELS

A RARE FIND TODAY Is a kennel, let alone one that has been established for 25 years. Ideally located between Washington Crossing and New Hope, Pa. This charming English style Tudor home has a spacious living room with fireplace, formal dining room, kitchen, den, bath and bedroom on the 1st floor. The 2nd floor has 2 twin sized bedrooms and a "hollywood bath." Outside you'll find a beautiful landscaped lot 20'x40' concrete swimming pool and a 3 car carriage garage. Yes a real "park like atmosphere" with 4 acres and 400' of Riparian Rights on the Delaware.

REASON? — Mrs. Sweet, after 25 years of handling "Poodles and Deanshunds" is retiring to New Hope to open a new store, called "The Conglomeration Shop". For us "dog lovers" she will still retain her grooming business. Come to think of it, who hasn't bought a dog from Mrs. Sweet? Shown by appointment only.

A sweepstakes just for homeowner readers of this paper!

American-Standard Air of good living whole-house summer air conditioning equipment!

If you're thinking of air conditioning your house, this may be your chance of a lifetime! This is strictly a local sweepstakes. Your chances go up, up, up. You may win exactly the right size (up to 5 H.P.!) whole-house central air conditioning equipment for your home... and all you pay for is the installation, which is optional!

Yes, you may be the lucky homeowner who will get... free... a matched American-Standard split-system set of central air conditioning equipment simply by inviting your American-Standard Air Conditioning Dealer to make a survey of your house... without cost or obligation! When he comes to your home, your Authorized Dealer will bring an Official Entry Form. All you need to do is fill in your name and address and drop it in the mail. And remember: In the event you have purchased any American-Standard air conditioning equipment during the sweepstakes period and you win that same equipment as a prize, the full price of the equipment purchased, not including installation, will be refunded! So don't delay, mail your coupon today and start enjoying the "air of good living"!

OFFICIAL RULES: NO PURCHASE REQUIRED—HERE'S ALL YOU DO! 1. Complete the coupon on this page. (Be sure to fill in all required information.) Mail to your American-Standard Dealer listed in this advertisement. All entries must be postmarked by June 30, 1967. 2. Winners will be selected in random drawings, conducted by the D. L. Blair Corporation, an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final. Only one prize to a family. No substitutions will be made for any prize. In the event a winner has purchased any American-Standard Air Conditioning equipment during the sweepstakes period and wins that same equipment as a prize, the full price of the equipment purchased, not including installation, will be refunded. 3. Offer open only to home owners and where made available by the participating American-Standard Dealers listed herewith, except employees and their families of American-Standard, their agents and their contest agencies. Offer void where prohibited by law. All Federal, State and local regulations apply.

(sole agent) $45,000

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . and in Princeton, too, on a lovely wooded lot with a brook, this fine home has living room with fireplace, dining room, nice kitchen with dishwasher, charming screened porch leading to the 2-car garage, and a big pine-paneled family room, bath and laundry. 4 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, many good closets, storage under eaves. A delightful home in one of our most pleasant neighborhoods. Close to schools. Lots of children. Short walk to N. Y. Express bus. By all means see it when the dogwoods are in bloom. (Sole agent) $45,000

WOODED . . . against an almost rural background of lofty trees, this long, low white house enjoys as lovely a setting as any in the Township.
4 bedrooms, 2 baths. All rooms on one floor. Big paneled recreation room with fireplace, and powder room, in basement. Living room (15x27) with fireplace, 14x16 dining room, modern kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, sunroom and a beautiful flagstoned patio. Master bedroom has two over-sized, walk-in closets with built-in drawers and shelves, and the other closets are many and commodious. (sole agent) $69,500

EDGERSTONE . . . a quiet, select neighborhood - one of Princeton's best locations. Outdoors, a 20 x 40 swimming pool adjoins the terrace.
Tall glass doors open to the large family room with fireplace and a built-in bar. At one end is a guest room and powder room; at the other, a paneled den and modern laundry. First floor: foyer, separate dining room, modern kitchen with disposal and dishwasher, and a charming living room with fireplace and a balcony off which are master bedroom and bath, 2 other bedrooms and bath. (sole agent) $69,000

TOWN HOUSE . . . right on Stockton Street, in the Borough, it has a wide entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, library, maid's room and bath, powder room . . . and a very up-to-date kitchen. Upstairs: sitting room with fireplace (this could also be a bedroom), 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Third floor: 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. Outdoors:
an inviting garden with flagstone terrace, and many huge old shade trees.
(sole agent) $79,500

RENTALS . . .

Now you can forget it for 30 years. Maybe more. You can forget about paint. And paint brushes. And painters. And the expense. Not to mention the bather and the nuisance.

How? Get Alcoa's new "Premium 30" siding. Revolutionary aluminum siding that is guaranteed in writing for 30 years. (Only guarantee like it). The secret: DuPont's miraculous "TEDLAR" on the exterior surface. DuPont's Tedlar is a tough PVF film. Not a paint. It can't blister, peel, crack. Can't chip, craze or alligator. Can't chalk. Stands up to boiling heat and 100° below zero cold. Unharmful by smoke, smog, soot, salt air — almost anything you can name.

And it resists sun and weather at least FIVE times better than the best baked enamel siding.

DuPont tested "Tedlar" for 21 years. Then Alcoa fused it to their top grade aluminum. And now we have it. Why not you?

Call us for a polite, no-pressure demonstration.

ONE FOR THE MONEY: $28,500 will buy this good small country house of cedar shakes. Located mid-way between Princeton and Pennington, it contains a large living room with paneled fireplace wall, dining 'ell' opening to screened porch, equipped kitchen with formica cabinets. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and 2 full baths. Paved den and powder room on lower level. Cellar and two car garage. Available after school this summer.

HAVEN'T YOU ALWAYS WANTED YOUR OWN POOL? Transform all those long, hot days ahead into one continuous private summer festival with this lovely backyard oasis. Fenced and littered, it's the focal point of an artistically landscaped 3/4 acre with raised brick terrace and many trees. Three-year-old house has living room with large dining 'ell', well equipped kitchen has sunny breakfast balcony overlooking family living room with fireplace and sliding glass doors to terrace. 3 bedrooms and 2 baths on ground floor. Easily expandable second story. Callar and garage. In a country neighborhood with all city utilities. Northeast of Princeton. $34,500

GOING, GOING, GONE: This time last week, there were live houses for sale in this most desirable young Lawrenceville neighborhood and now only one is left. True, it's a bit more expensive than some of the others, but we've always thought it was quite a bit better, too. Southern colonial in spirit, it stands on a beautifully wooded corner lot which soon will be a mass of azaleas in bloom. A classic center hall plan includes living room, dining room, paneled family room with fireplace, extra large kitchen with ample breakfast area and adjoining laundry and powder room on the first floor. On the second, there are 4 bedrooms and 2 full baths. Carpeted and centrally air-conditioned it can't last much longer to today's active market. $38,000
